Sain Masters Favorites in Opener

CALM CONQUEROR of the highly-favored Cleveland Indians in opening game of the World Series today was big Johnny Sain, left, who never was in trouble as Boston Braves won by 1-0. Dream of a series victory will have to await some other day for Bob Feller, right, who lost despite his two-hit pitching.

BRAVES FIELD, BOSTON, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Boston Braves edged Cleveland Indians 1-0 today in the first game of the world series, with Phil Masi scoring the only run in the eighth inning.

The game was a pitcher's duel between Johnny Sain of the Braves and Bob Feller of the Indians. Feller held the Braves hitless for four innings.

Tommy Holmes' single past third base scored Masi with two out in the last of the eighth to give the Braves their victory.

It was the first 1-0 World Series shutout since 1923.

FELLER OUTPITCHED

Sain, the rubber-armed right-hander with the fancy curve ball, outpitched the great Feller, who allowed only two hits in a heart-breaking loss. The Indians got four singles off Sain, a 24-game winner in the regular season.

It was the first 1-0 game since Art Nehf of the New York Giants shut out Joe Bush and the New York Yankees in 1923.

They came down in the last of the eighth all knotted up at 0-0, when Catcher Bill Salkeld worked Feller for a walk on a 3-1 pitch. Billy Southworth, the Braves' crafty manager, sent Phil Masi in to run for him.

NEAT SACRIFICE

Mike McCormick shoved Masi along with a neat sacrifice bunt. Then Manager Lou Boudreau's strategy called for an intentional walk to Eddie Stanky, just back in the lineup after a 60-day layoff due to an ankle injury.

After Stanky drew the pass, Southworth sent in Sibby Sisti, who had replaced him while he was sidelined, as a pinch runner.

Holmes then delivered the game winning blow, a hard smash past third base into left and Masi flew home with the big run.

It was a real heartbreaker for Feller who had a no-hitter going into the fifth inning. Even in the eighth, until Holmes, a .325 hitter, smashed

U.K. Hints Force Next Berlin Move

Appeal to Security Council Only Alternative for West

PARIS, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain told the United Nations Security Council today that the Western Powers' appeal to the council was the only alternative to breaking the Russian blockade of Berlin by force.

While Sir Alexander spoke, Russia's Andrei Vishinsky sat silently listening to the debate on the Berlin crisis. Earlier he showed signs of both interest and boredom. He returned to the council chamber after lunch without indication whether he would break his silence.

Yesterday the deputy Soviet foreign minister said he would not participate in the debate on the British, United States and French charges that Russia is menacing peace by blockading Berlin.

MAP RESOLUTION

Meanwhile British, American and French UN leaders met late today to hammer out a resolution calling on Russia to end the Berlin blockade, a British official reported. Their informal meeting was also to decide whether the West's end-the-blockade resolution would be a joint one in the name of Britain, the United States and France, or separate ones, the source said.

The "illegal and forcible measures" imposed by the Soviet government in Berlin left the western allies with three courses of action, Sir Alexander said today.

These were:

1. To "submit passively to the efforts of the Soviet government to deprive us of all their authority and rights in Berlin, and thereby to consolidate the political system which it desires forcibly to impose upon Berlin and the Soviet Zone."

2. To "continue discussion under duress."

He added: "It is inconceivable that the British government, for their part, could consent to either of these courses."

3. To "resort to force as the only possible way of defending and maintaining their legitimate rights."

To do that, Sir Alexander said "would be equivalent to adopting the very methods employed by the Soviet government, of which we now complain."

He added: "In all the circumstances, the only step which His Majesty's government and the governments of the United States and France can now take is to bring this matter to the attention of the Security Council as a clear threat to the peace."

Vishinsky sat through the first

Margarine Ban Under Attack

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Senator Salter A. Hayden told the supreme court of Canada today that parliament itself has given the "strongest evidence" that it no longer believes that margarine is injurious to health.

This evidence, he said, in opening an attack on the validity of the margarine ban, was given when parliament permitted the manufacture, importation and sale of the butter substitute following the First World War.

"If there is one time when it could be said that the health of the citizens was paramount," he said, "I would think that would be in wartime."

He said this suspension of the ban some 20 years ago nullified the effect of the preamble to the original prohibition legislation, which was adopted in 1886 and said margarine was "injurious to health."

Senator Hayden was attacking the validity of legislation which prohibits the manufacture, importation and sale of margarine in Canada.

Don't Bet Against War, Monty Warns Countrymen

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery today warned against "underplaying the danger of war."

Thousands jammed the narrow square known as Mansion House street or watched from surrounding windows as Lord Montgomery declared the danger of war exists and appealed for a strong Britain.

Speaking from the Lord Mayor's festooned mansion house balcony, Lord Montgomery continued the drive for 150,000 volunteers for the territorial army.

Hecklers who disturbed recruiting speeches earlier this week were absent. But five minutes after he left, a man was arrested on a side street for throwing handbills into the air near the recruiting van.

Supporting the campaign for 5,000 recruits weekly, Lord Montgomery said:

"It is doubtful we have reached the stage where mankind can by reasoning alone put an end to war. That time is not yet.

"Therefore the danger exists. Therefore let us be secure.

"We intend to handle any major emergency by using the territorial army framework. We shall base the expansion of our land forces in war-time on the territorial army. It is the structure on which the whole national army depends.

"We achieve security by strength and preparedness.

"In the hand of strength lie the keys of peace."

GABLE SAID FRAUD VICTIM

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Clark Gable yesterday confronted a man accused of forging the actor's name to a $3,159.85 cheque and told detectives he had "never seen him before."

Lawrence C. Bernhardt, 34, a building contractor, was booked earlier on suspicion of forgery. He was quoted by police as saying when he was arrested: "Clark Gable is my closest friend. I have the power of attorney for him. He drops by my place every now and then and leaves a cheque for me."

200 Killed By Iran 'Quake

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Two hundred persons were killed and thousands were injured by an earthquake last midnight, a dispatch from Meshed said today.

Damage was reported great. The dispatch said parts of the famous Meshed Mosque called Gowhar-shad collapsed.

Meshed is the capital of Khorsan Province in eastern Iran.

A walled and holy city, Meshed lies on a fertile plain about 100 miles northeast of Tehran. It contains the superb mausoleum of the Imam Riza, which is visited annually by about 100,000 pilgrims. Commercially, it is an important regional trade centre.

(Strong earth tremors were reported from various observatories last night. The quake seemed far heavier than the one which took 2,238 lives at Fukui, Japan, last June.)

Eight Killed In Crash Of B-29

Four of the plane's occupants, including Capt. H. W. Moore, of Wilkinsburgh, Pa., bailed out and landed safely.

King Hopeful About Peace

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, en route to represent Canada at the Commonwealth conference here, jumped off a train from Paris this morning with a wave for a group waiting to welcome him.

The Canadian leader told the Canadian Press in an interview that he feels more hopeful about the international situation than when he left Canada last month to head the Canadian delegation at the United Nations General Assembly in Paris.

This was his comment:

"Notwithstanding all the difficulties, I feel more hopeful about the international situation than when I left Canada.

"It will take a long time to work out these problems but patience is a wonderful thing and can achieve much."

Foreign Secretary Bevin who arrived on the same train, told officials on the platform: "The limelight is for Mackenzie King today." Then he hurried to a waiting automobile while the Canadian prime minister faced photographers.

Firefighters May Be Trapped By Flames

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Forestry officials said today they were not too concerned over the safety of a group of firefighters reported trapped inside a circle of fire near Fisherton, a few miles south of Hodgson and 100 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

S. W. Schortinghuis, chief of Manitoba's forest protection service, said the men probably went into the fire area along one route and came out over another. However, forest rangers were going in to investigate.

Three fires converged while the men were trying to build a fire break to check a spreading wall of flame. All carried shovels and picks.

Meanwhile, patients and staff of an Indian hospital midway between Dallas and Hodgson, on the wide land strip separating Lakes Winnipeg and Manitoba, feared that forest fires burning five miles away might bear down on their premises.

Though the area about the hospital is fairly open, observers said strong winds could send flames leaping through scrub and grass with ravenous speed.

Staffed by six nurses, the hospital normally accommodates 40 patients, but approximately 60 are reported

3 B.C. Union Chiefs Stripped of Powers

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6.—(CP)—The three leftist chieftains of British Columbia's woodworkers today were temporarily stripped of their powers as the flaring factional labor dispute continued throughout the province's huge timber industry.

Supreme Court injunctions, obtained by the International Woodworkers of America (CIO), were served on the trio, Ernest Dalskog, Harold Pritchett and Bert Melsness, respectively president, vice-president and secretary of the new Woodworkers' Industrial Union of Canada.

The writs ordered the men, all prominent members of the provincial Labor Progressive Party, to keep their hands off all files, funds and property of the B.C. district of the IWA. The district council, run by Dalskog, Pritchett and Melsness, severed all ties with the international body at the weekend in a swift disaffiliation move.

Today Deputy Sheriff A. J. Tuttle set about serving similar injunctions, valid until Friday, against 38 officers of the strife-torn B.C. district, which had a membership of 27,000. There are also 13,000 pulpmill woodworkers in the province's $200,000,000 forest products industry.

Pritchett claimed he had not been served a writ. He said he refused admittance to his home of "what might have been a process-server" but said the man left, after "inserting a document" in the letter-box. The serving of the writs, late yesterday, climaxed a day of near-violence in the rift.

Charles Warner, 19-year-old Vancouver Sun cameraman, charged that he was attacked by nine men outside the union hall. He said his camera was smashed and his film strewn over the sidewalk, while two men held him. Police later arrested Arthur Lindberg, 41-year-old logger, and charged him with "obstructing a police officer."

Meanwhile the factional dispute flared. IWA president James Fatling of Portland, Ore., said he wanted the B.C. membership to vote on the disaffiliation move. Dalskog claimed a referendum was not necessary.

CO-ED SAID 'TOO BRILLIANT'

Girl's Disappearance Due to 'Mental Blackout'

TORONTO, Oct. 6. — (CP) — Tears trickling down her face, June Baker stepped from the Ottawa train shortly after daybreak today at the almost-deserted Leaside station here.

Accompanied by her mother and father, their faces showing the strain caused by their daughter's sudden and mysterious disappearance last Thursday, the 21-year-old University of Toronto medical student entered a waiting automobile.

The attractive co-ed was found in Ottawa yesterday working as a $14-a-week waitress in a small restaurant.

Dr. W. E. Blatz, professor of psychology at the University of Toronto, friend of the Baker family, who has been acting as advisor to the parents, said the girl would be placed immediately in a nursing home to recover from mental sickness.

He said the girl's action in leaving home without letting her parents or anyone else know was due to "a mental blackout." The doctor discounted any other conclusions.

The girl, described by Dr. Blatz as "too brilliant for her own good," collapsed when she saw her parents yesterday.

They flew to Ottawa when they heard she was found.

The family was reunited in the home of Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock at Rockcliffe, Ottawa suburb, where the second-year medical student had been taken after being released from the custody of Ontario Provincial Police.

"She is not in any trouble," Dr. Blatz said, "but she is suffering from delusions. There was no inducement by anyone. Her actions were of her own volition."

Jews, Arabs May Negotiate Peace

PARIS, Oct. 6. — (CP) — Moshe Shertok, Israeli foreign minister, today said it is "entirely possible" that Jews and Arabs will negotiate a Palestine settlement outside the United Nations.

He told a press conference that Israel was ready to sit down at a peace conference with the Arabs at any time to discuss a general settlement of the problem.

St. Laurent Welcomes Delegates From Nfld.

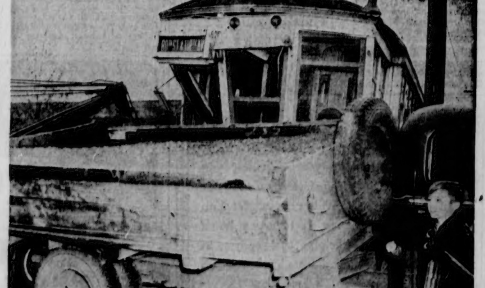
OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent told Newfoundland representatives today that Canada hopes the island colony's entry into Confederation "will better assure the future safety and welfare of both peoples."

He expressed that hope in a 1,000-word welcome to the Newfoundland delegation which will discuss with Canadian authorities the precise terms of union.

The historic meeting took place in the Senate chamber at noon. Hot newsreel spotlights flooded the chamber as the talks—expected to last several months—got underway. There were few spectators; newspaper men were seated on the floor of the chamber.

The seven-man Newfoundland delegation is headed by Commissioner Albert Walsh as chairman. It arrival in Ottawa follows by 2½ months the referendum in which Newfoundland voted to join Canada as a 10th province. Confederation got a 7,000-vote majority over the alternate choice, return to responsible government.

Current estimates are that union will be consumated by next March 31.



AN 18-MONTHS old baby in a pram in the front compartment of Blue and White street car miraculously escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon. Street car crashed into gravel truck when the truck driver thought the street car was going to stop and made a left hand turn directly in its path. Accident occurred at the intersection of 82 avenue and 106 street. Child was Loraine Fox, 18 months, 6705 106 street. She sustained scratches to her head and one nasal. (See story Page Nine).

51,528 Houses Up in 6 Months

Accommodation Still Short Across Canada, However

By The Canadian Press

October is not the headache it once was to truckers moving families from one home to another.

A Canadian Press survey shows that most Canadians are staying where they are, not necessarily because they like it, but because they can't find any better place to move.

With thousands of new homes sprouting across the Dominion, the nation is experiencing the paradox of long waiting lists for any sort of shelter—from houses to converted barracks.

A housing review published by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation showed 21,000 houses completed in the first half of the year in towns and cities, 3,000 more than the same period last year. In villages and countryside 30,528 new housing units were completed in the first half of this year.

MANY MORE STARTED

The tempo will increase, the review shows. Twenty-four thousand houses were started in cities and towns—39,768 started in villages and rural areas—in the first half of this year.

Cross-country reports show that much of this month's moving won't involve new houses. Some families will exchange with others; country houses are being moved from their foundations to urban centres; summer cottages are being winterized for permanent residences, and trailer camps show no signs of disappearing.

Basic reason for the shortage is the population increase, set against the background of the long depression and wartime period when housing construction was below normal.

Canada's population this year is estimated at 12,883,000, against 11,267,000 in 1939 and 10,376,000 in 1931.

Building materials and labor are both more plentiful.

But houses still cost more.

Average wages of construction workers in January-June of this year were 7.6 per cent higher than the same period last year. Building materials were an over-all 2.9 per cent more expensive. The combined cost index of materials and labor for building stood 4.4 per cent higher.

Throughout eastern Canada, housing conditions were reported "tight" with few people moving from their present quarters. Rented accommodation was in heavy demand throughout the maritimes, Ontario and Quebec.

Edmonton authorities see little likelihood of much October moving. The crown corporation has 2,000 unfilled applications from veterans and hundreds from others. Next year's outlook is no brighter, despite a city plan to provide water and roads to 1,500 new lots.

Calgary reports no October moving, except for normal month-end moves. The crown corporation will build 300 low-rent homes, while private and veterans' projects are making rapid progress.

There are long waiting lists at all Vancouver rental and real estate agencies. The University of British Columbia farm sinds 1,000 families unsheltered and all emergency units crammed. More than 2,900 house-building permits were issued since Jan. 1.

to be there now, including a number of persons from Dallas, the village six miles north which was evacuated yesterday.

CAN BE EVACUATED

Should wind vagaries send scorching fire bursts in its direction, the hospital can be evacuated safely. None of the patients—some of whom are suffering from minor burns received while fighting blazes in their home localities—are reported to be in critical condition.

Meanwhile, four persons believed missing in the fire-swept Dallas region 120 miles north of Winnipeg were located safe and well last night by Forest Ranger J. S. Stanton.

Tying water-soaked sacks of sawdust to his horse's feet, Stanlake rode through cinders, sparks and flame to the farm home of elderly Leonard Erklen. The farmer was still on his property and refused to leave despite blazing bushlands which practically surrounded his acres.

SEEK RED CROSS AID

Red Cross assistance was sought for the Dallas evacuees, many of whom were insufficiently clad for a night in the open. Despite the proximity of the bush fires, the temperature in the Interlake district sank to near freezing.

In another area, residents of Hecla Island asked a Winnipeg radio station to broadcast a warning to Lake Winnipeg fishermen to return to their homes immediately to help in flame combat work. Bush fires on the island were reported advancing along a five-mile front.

part of Sir Alexander's speech with his translation earphones on, taking notes rapidly. His face was grimmer than it was at the morning session.

The deputy United States delegate, Philip C. Jessup, led off the debate with a long statement on American views on the Berlin blockade, now more than 100 days old.

Vishinsky at first took copious notes and made great flourishes indicating he was interested. Later he threw down his pencil and earphones, whipped out a French Socialist newspaper and began to read.

He was taking notes, however, when Jessup, a Columbia University professor, declared at the outset of his speech:

"We have not made a restricted or qualified submission to the Security Council."

The United States, Jessup said, is determined "to take such measures as may be necessary to insure the safety and subsistence of our forces in Berlin and of the population committed to their charge by four-power agreement."

There was no immediate indication of how Vishinsky would carry out his avowed intention of not participating in the hearing against Russia. Asked if he would speak during the council session, he told reporters: "Wait and see."

"Hospital administrators and trustees exist not merely to hear reports and authorize the spending of money," he said. "They should also study the organization necessary to provide good hospital services."

Dr. G. Harvey Agnew, Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Hospital council, said Canadian hospitals are facing "difficult times."

He said, "we cannot expect the shortage of hospital facilities to be overcome rapidly."

HOLLYWOOD, — (AP) — The popular band business, now at its lowest ebb in many years, will seek a revival with one-night engagements.

The cry is "hit the road" for band leaders these days. Harry James has left on a 10-week tour of one-nighters. Singer Andy Russell is lining up a band to back him in a series of single engagements. Other maestros are consulting road maps.

This would seem like the right way to revive public interest in bands. Many bandsmen lost the popular touch during the boom years years when money was coming fast and easy. It's time for them to meet the people again.

The story, which reads like a Cinderella tale, should bring some lively bidding. But rest assured Billie won't make the same mistake she did in selling "The Great Ziegfeld" to MGM. She claims she earned only $10,000 for the deal.

Jack Benny still hasn't found a film vehicle he likes, despite various announcements. Jack hasn't been happy with his screen assignments and wants to be sure his movie return will be the right one.

Bob Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck will be separated during the holidays. He'll be in England for "Conspirator" and she'll be working here. Bob plans to fly to Paris for the week-ends, since he won't be working Saturdays and Sundays in the British studio.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"June Bride" (BB) is a pleasant surprise. Bette Davis hatches no neuroses and Robert Montgomery is his old lighthearted self. They move their magazine staff to cover a small-town Indiana wedding. Except for slow start and some talkness, it's a happy, hearty comedy. And what a relief!

Prices Board Probes Lumber Cost Increase

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—The Prices Commission today began a three weeks attempt to learn why lumber prices have tripled since 1939, one of the biggest factors in increased construction costs.

The commission started its exploration of the lumber business by calling a government statistician to provide basic information on prices increases. Then retailers were questioned. In the course of the investigation, the three commissioners will quiz members of the industry from coast to coast and take in both timber operators and retailers.

F. H. Leacy, a government official, said lumber accounts for about 40 per cent of the construction costs of a house, and measured by the wholesale price index has risen from 100 for the 1935-39 base period to 305.8 last Aug. 15.

The most important construction woods, fir and spruce, both rose sharply during that period. The fir price index now stands at 378.7 and spruce at 306.

Production was about one-third greater, except in the case of Douglas fir, which had declined. Exports of fir declined between 1939 and 1946 but have risen sharply since.

Big Ship Launched

BARROW-IN-FURNESS, Lancashire, England, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The 31,000-ton liner Himalaya was launched here yesterday. The Pacific and Orient Steam Navigation Company will operate the ship in the Britain-India-Australia service. It is the largest ship built in any shipyard in 1948.

Canadian Flower Business Expands

Flower sales by Canadian florists last year were worth $30,000,000, highest in history of the business.

Joseph A. Whitmore, Toronto, revealed the florist trade is definitely big business in an interview here today.

Secretary-treasurer of the Allied Florists and Growers of Canada Inc., Mr. Whitmore is here for the annual meeting of Alberta unit of the association.

Approximately 40 members of the provincial unit attended the meeting in the Macdonald Hotel Tuesday under the chairmanship of W. A. Hornbeck, Edmonton florist.

everyday use of flowers in the home.

A national advertising campaign to "sell more flowers to more people more often" starts in the third week of October.

Mr. Whitmore said the florists of Canada are carrying on an educational campaign to increase the Florists are also studying better methods of growing, marketing and designing of floral wreaths and bouquets.

Mr. Whitmore said that 10,000,000 square feet of greenhouse glass is used in Canada for growing of flowers.

Alberta florists adopted a resolution urging continued efforts to establish schools of floriculture in Canadian universities. The provincial unit will approach the University of Alberta to ascertain possibilities of starting a school here.

Also secretary of Canadian Warehousing and Canadian Soft Drink Associations, Mr. Whitmore plans to attend the annual meeting of these organizations in Calgary about two weeks from now.

Parking Law Curb Asked

Alberta Motor Association representatives will seek the suspension of parking meter operation on Wednesday afternoons.

Decision to bring the suggestion before the city commissioners came at the bi-monthly luncheon of the Edmonton branch of the AMA Monday at the Corona hotel.

The representation will also urge the Commissioners to disregard parking meter violations by tourists.

They suggested issuing special tickets to tourists who overpark. Tickets would resemble parking tags but would carry a message of welcome to the city.

A committee headed by D. McAfee was appointed by the AMA to survey present parking lots in the city and investigate suitable areas for parking facilities.

Safety committee of the organization was instructed to advise city officials of the need for blinker lights at 102 avenue and 149 street, 115 avenue and Fort road, and 124 street and 118 avenue.

Membership of the local AMA branch increased by 230 during September to bring total membership to 16,648, the meeting was told.

Kiwanis Plan Charter Night

Plans for the Charter Night of the newly-formed South Side Kiwanis Club were announced to members of the Club at their meeting in the King Edward Hotel Tuesday.

The affair is to be held Friday evening, Oct. 8, in the Macdonald hotel and will be held jointly with a ladies' night to be sponsored by the Edmonton Kiwanis Club.

Frank Cowles, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for Charter Night, made the announcement.

Report on the recent Kiwanis Apple Day was given members of the club by Walter Bates who directed activities of the South Side club in the campaign.

Calgary Promised Help Under Judge Report Plan

Calgary taxpayers will receive "considerable financial assistance" through the provincial government's move to implement the Judge report.

This was told a Calgary delegation seeking relaxation of provincial government conditions attached to a proposed $884,000 federal-provincial hospital construction grant when the group met the Alberta cabinet in a special meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The province has decreed that the grant will only be paid in municipalities or parts of municipalities giving ratepayers and their dependents public ward hospitalization at $1 a day.

Calgary representatives were protesting the increased mill rate levy which would be necessary to finance the hospitalization scheme.

Cabinet argued Tuesday that implementation of the Judge report would provide Calgary taxpayers with financial assistance. As a result the hospitalization plan could be financed with only a slight mill rate increase.

Judge report seeks to provide municipalities with increased education and road grants, indigent and pension relief assistance, and payment of grants in lieu of taxes on government buildings.

Social Credit government promised to implement the provisions of the report "as far as possible" at the time of the provincial election last August.

"I am far less opposed to the government's conditions of the grant than I was a few hours ago," Mayor J. C. Watson, head of the Calgary delegation told The Bulletin after the meeting with the cabinet.

Delegation conferred with the cabinet for two and a half hours.

Calgary representatives are doubtful that they can accept the government's conditions and increase the mill rate without a plebiscite from taxpayers approving the move.

No Fire

The column of black smoke rising from the Leduc oil field this morning was not from another Atlantic fire but from a sump of waste oil being burned in the field, Oilmen in Leduc say that such columns of smoke will be seen frequently in future and are not any cause for alarm. Tanks, wells, and pipes are being cleaned continually and the accumulated sludge is burned to keep the field cleaned up.

Gymkhana Planned

A combined Gymkhana and Dog Show will be staged Sunday by the Briercrest Saddle Club, the Edmonton Cocker Spaniel Club and the Capital City Club.

Events will be held at the Briercrest Saddle Club grounds beginning at 2 p.m.

Prowse Asks Organization Preparation

Immediate organization of Edmonton Liberals and selection of candidates for the next federal election is necessary, J. Harper Prowse MLA told the Edmonton Liberal Association meeting Tuesday at the IOOF hall.

The Alberta Liberal leader suggested the formation of community Liberal associations, co-ordinated through a central committee.

Neil D. McLean, delegate to the national convention of Liberals held in Ottawa last August, reported the convention showed the "united, magnificent strength of the Liberal party in Canada."

Inequalities of women in politics was "based on their own apathy," Mrs. Paul Ragan, vice-president of the Alberta Women's Liberal Association told the meeting.

Mrs. Ragan attended the national convention and was appointed Alberta delegate to the committee correlating all suggestions submitted by the women's groups.

Northern Unity Is Needed

Sectional jealousies should not be allowed to interfere with the development of Alberta's great Peace River section, but there is grave danger they will by dividing the justifiable demand of entire district for adequate road connection with Edmonton.

President F. G. Winspear of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce has been quick in pointing this out to businessmen and others he met in connection with the Chamber's Friendship train to the north last week.

There can be little doubt, Mr. Winspear has pointed out, the crying need of the north country is roads, but the construction of these arteries of trade and commerce can only be delayed by bickering between communities as to routes.

He is correct in foreseeing a network of highways interlacing the entire district, and is equally correct in his insistence it will be necessary to build the first all-weather highway before his augury is fulfilled.

He has undertaken on behalf of the influential body of opinion he heads that the Chamber of Commerce here will press the provincial government for construction of an all-weather arterial road to the Peace River country as soon as the northern communities decide among themselves the route which will best serve the entire district.

It is the old cry for the complete submersion of selfish sectional interests by all, for the ultimate good of all.

French Protest Ill-considered

There seems to be little grounds for a reported protest from French government leaders against the appointment of Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery as supreme commander of Western European Defence forces.

Basis of the protest is said to be that Monty would be more inclined to fall back on the British Isles than to defend the Low Countries and France.

But a soldier like Montgomery is anxious to keep the enemy as far from home bases as possible. England underwent one state of siege with enemy troops poised but twenty miles away ready for invasion of British soil.

Neither Britons nor Montgomery are likely to want a repeat performance of those tense days which followed Dunkirk in 1940. They will rest much more comfortably if the new enemy is held on the line of Rhine or driven back to the Don and the Oder than they would if the only barrier was the narrow English channel.

It is reported the French would prefer an American general for a military chief, but by application of the same logic they use in their argument against appointment of Montgomery, would he not be inclined to retire behind the broad Atlantic?

There Is No 'Little' Neglect

There is no such thing as being "just a little careless" with fire or with any medium that might cause fire.

It takes but "little" carelessness to start a blaze which might mean the financial loss of millions of dollars or more serious—the loss of a life.

An improperly extinguished cigarette or a still-burning match, tossed away, are too often the means of releasing death and destruction.

But these actions themselves might be called "just a little careless."

Or one might be a trifle neglectful in checking over electric wiring or stove outlets.

Too frequently that trifle of neglect has meant horrible tragedy.

These lessons should be indelibly printed in the mind of every citizen, but annually fire-fighting and fire-prevention officials select a week in which they emphasize the dangers of fire.

This is fire prevention week in Edmonton and Fire Marshal Jack Booth again draws attention to Edmonton's fire losses and the sickening frequency with which those losses are traced directly to a "little carelessness."

"Just a little careful" should be an accolade and "just a little careless" an indictment.

Taking Over 'Pubs'? Cor!

If the suggestion made by two English labor newspapers that Britain's public houses be nationalized is followed out, what will happen to retired sergeant-majors from the British army?

Literaly hundreds of those grand old institutions, the public houses, are owned by men who spent their entire term in uniform dreaming of the day they doff their khaki and their stern demeanor and don a white apron and geniality.

The hint of nationalization of public houses certainly indicates an invasion on the private life of the individual.

The public house, with its darts, its shove-ha'penny boards and its games of dominoes is the working man's club—the most before the walls of that home which is presumably, his castle.

And how would Alf, Ernie, 'Arry and Tom, who own the Red Lion, the Wheat Sheaf, the Coach and Horses and the Angel feel about becoming public servants?

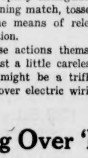
Up to the present the whole proposition is in the suggestion stage—perhaps it's one of those plans of the socialists which will never work out.

ON THE RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

Soviet Russia's Aim To Sovietize All Germany

In dealing with modern dictators it is well to assume that their major statements of policy represent their views. Although all of them use the lie, they also tell the truth in their more deliberate utterances. The present modern tragedy arose from believing that Hitler did not mean what he said. Actually, he wrote down his whole program in Mein Kampf — which Neville Chamberlain later confessed he had never read.



THOMPSON

This column doubts the political usefulness of trying to ascertain Soviet and international Communist tactics from personal hearings such as those conducted by the committee on un-American activities. This is not the way to analyze major developments. The Soviet-Communist program has been spelled out in exact detail in successive international congresses, and from day to day a thorough study of Communist publications would reveal more than cross questionings of ex-Communists and suspects.

Rearm Germany

Late in the war this column predicted that the Russians would be the first to re-arm Germany, simply because in a carefully worded and deliberate "order of the day" statement, Stalin had said so.

Deriding the idea that Germany could dissolve the Russian state and army, Stalin said he had no such intentions toward Germany. "There will always be a German state, but the Hitlerite state must go. There will always be a German army, but the Hitlerite army will be destroyed." He underlined the latter by saying it would not be wise or desirable permanently to disarm Germany.

Meanwhile the free German committee had been set up in Moscow in which high German officers played the greatest role —Von Einsiedel, Von Seydlitz and later Von Paulus. These broadcast to German troops recommending a return to Bismarck's (and Hausshofer's) pro-Russian policy as a necessity for German power.

The role played by these officers in Moscow disconcerted the western allies. President Roosevelt was told me he had raised the question with Stalin who waived it off as "just propaganda to influence German morale." But it is apparent this statement was the propaganda designed to quiet the apprehensions of Roosevelt and Churchill.

To destroy the Hitlerite state and create a German Soviet state; to replace the Hitler army with a German Red army allied with the Soviets and their satellites is Soviet policy. It accounts for Soviet insistence on the division of Germany; the sabotaging of four-power control; the rejection of Mr. Byrne's proposal for a 50-year pact for German disarmament; the absence from among the accused at the Nuremberg trials of generals who led the war in the east; the Soviet determination to drive us from Berlin and the recent crack-down on nationalist tendencies among the Soviet satellites.

Rupture With Tito

The break with Tito was occasioned by Tito's unwillingness to sacrifice Trieste to aid the Italian Communists in the last election. The Soviets wanted Italy at Tito's cost. And the purges of nationalists in the Polish and Czech governments are for similar reasons. These countries must be prepared to make territorial sacrifices for the political conquest of Germany.

Edward R. Morrow has reported from Berlin that the Soviet military administration is setting up a German Communist government in Leipzig and that this government will have a militia of 100,000 men—the nucleus of a German "people's army." This flagrant breach of the Potsdam agreement is completely in conformity with Soviet policy elsewhere, for instance, in Korea, where the Soviets withdrew after creating a native militia of 150,000. Now they demand that we also withdraw, leaving Southern Korea to the mercies of an indoctrinated striking force, not of Red Russians, but of Red Koreans.

Similarly, the Russians, once they have armed a 100,000 man Soviet Germans (as large as the force granted Germany by the Treaty of Versailles) will bid for German support by demanding the end of the military occupation, turning their zone over to armed Red Germans.

Secretary Marshall's apprehensions are entirely justified. But meanwhile the Communist party line, supported by Henry Wallace, is that there is no crisis in Germany—it's all made up to divert American attention from high prices!

Actually, there is the greatest crisis since Munich.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Religions Are All Alike

Editor, Bulletin.—A contributor to your letter to the Editor column, Veteran, of Dawson Creek, stated in his letter, People of religions other than the Christian religion, Jews, Mohammedans, etc, were as moral as Christians.

No one has so far, disputed that statement.

Granting that such is the truth, which I believe it is, we may go on to deduce that what is best in any religion is common to all religions. And that this moral quality does not belong to any religion. It is the property of humanity. The human instinct.

In my opinion, what is base in the Christian religion is also common to all religions. That is, they are all religions of class society. They justify the class structure and their own existence by denying to humanity a faith in itself. In its own virtue. They have no hesitation in trampling on humanity to save the class structure from a Communist classless society, because a religion that has been molded through the ages with a view to reconcile humanity to a life where humanity is divided against itself would find itself. Religion that is, unemployed if God's will was done on earth as it is in heaven.

Mines Remain Open

Editor, Bulletin.—Now that the CCF has the nationalization of our key industries the chief feature of its federal first-term program, the way that such a program works out in other countries becomes of greater interest to us in Canada.

The wide implication of the Socialist principles of a "planned economy" and "production for the public good and not for private profit" are well brought out in a recent decision of the National coal board, the body which governs Britain's nationalized coal industry.

Nineteen uneconomic collieries in central Scotland are now being run at a loss to keep the miners at work and to prevent fuel shortage in the community. Before these pits are finally closed down new towns will have been built in the vicinity of the new pits, ready for the miners and the businesses catering to them, to move into. About 100,000 people will be transferred over a period of ten years. Under the previous system of private ownership these pits would have been closed down whenever they ceased to make a profit, without consideration of the tragic consequences of unemployment to the miner, his family, and others dependent on him as a purchaser.

What a terrible tragedy this is, is pictured in Helen Wilkinson's "The Town That Was Murdered."

It tells the story of Jarrow, which was left derelict when its basic shipbuilding industry, consulting its own interests, moved away to the Thames to combine more profitably with another firm.

Since Britain took over its mines, part of the loss shown in the first year's operation included the $160 million due to higher wages and improvement of working conditions. The miner is now one of the highest-paid workers in the country—and rightly so. All this serves, in part, to explain the CCF slogan: "People Before Profits."

Asks More Interest To Combat Reds

Editor, Bulletin: — The letter box has always been of great interest to me, and I am sure most of us have derived pleasure and good ideas one time or the other from it. Since the war, Communism has been discussed as frequently as any other subject, so I would like to add my thoughts on this great menace to society and freedom loving people.

Most of us realize just how serious Communism is, and what it has wrecked other parts of the world. We have heard great statesmen like Winston Churchill, Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, Mr. King and others warning us to be on our guard. We have seen the news reels depicting scenes of mob violence, stoning, and murder; we have seen the hungry and helpless look on the faces of ignorant people as they are forced to listen to some crazy fanatic; the look of terror in the innocent eyes of little children as they cling to mother's dress.

We settle more smugly, in our comfortable seat, and thank our lucky stars we are merely seeing it on the screen. Most of us take it for granted, and assure ourselves, "Oh well, that's away over the sea. There is nothing we can do about it."

Well let's suppose our boys had the same idea when they went to war. Where would we be today? These gallant men laid down their lives to keep our country and the world free, and there are many things we can do and must do in order to keep peace, so that their sacrifices were not in vain.

As a matter of fact, friends, it might be well for all of us to take stock and add some contribution toward a much better world. Let's all get out and use our franchise at election time. I believe we ought to have a much broader and brotherly kindness to our storied fellow Canadian. Most of us respect, and admire their leadership, in many fields, and many of us might take a leaf from their book in other respects.

Markets Shifting West to East

Editor, Bulletin.—A glimpse of world affairs at the present day should open the eyes of every Canadian to see the danger confronting us by the continuous wrangling and nagging of our neighbors at home and abroad.

In Berlin the adjustment of German currency is still a bone of contention.

When the value of Russian and Germany currency is but 1-10 of American currency, it will cut the North American continent clear off from European markets, and a similar situation will arise as we witnessed during the depression. While Canadian elevators were overflowing, British millers bought on Argentine markets at lower prices. This time the Russians may supply them and Moscow will make another deal.

This shifting of markets from the west to the east may be considerably accentuated yet by a senseless race between prices and wages.

Whether private initiative will be strong enough though to adjust the matter, I dare not say, but when the strong arm of the government had to resort to our rescue in the dairy industry on the coast; it should be clear in a case of an international scope government aid will be indispensable.

Thus when delegates of American unions with dictatorial powers in their pocket try to cross the border, Ottawa is not only justified, but no less duty-bound to protect Canadian citizens against dictatorship by refusing entry to such union officials.

On the other hand, as long as the unsettled state of affairs in Europe is going to last, price control of vital commodities is of utmost importance.

Longs for The Good Old Days

Editor, Bulletin.—As a constant reader of The Bulletin, I again ask for a small space in your paper, which would be lost with out letters to the editor.

In reading an article in the Edson Signal under date of Sept. 30 by one Fred Muren from Pioneer, Alta., who like me compares olden times with our present times, he seems to be of the opinion that our civilization is fading away.

I in many respects, fully agree with this gentleman when we see the increase in crimes of various descriptions and the increase in liquor profits and in view of the fact that our RCMP and other officers are doing all in their power to stop these crimes.

It is obvious we cannot say matters are improving, it is rather the reverse, so I must say as our friend Mr. Muren I prefer the good old days.

I am a man now past seventy years of age, and know whereof I write as a young man, my recollection of the old days are still clear in my mind.

Our neighborhood was like one large family, if any were unfortunate in any way due to ill health or some other way, the neighbors all clubbed together and gave him a helping hand. Nothing was said about pay.

But these days the first question would be, "How much do you pay?"

As a young man I worked for $2.00 a day and was happy, but in those days your dollar had some purchasing power, so let us revive the good-will spirit of olden days, and discontinue eyeing each other with suspicion and mistrust and establish faith in ourselves and our fellow men.

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

By Dewitt Mackenzie

Senator Chan Gurney (Rep., S.D.) chairman of the United States Senate Armed Forces Committee, after conferring with Generalissimo Franco in Madrid, has called for restoration of "complete relations between Spain and the other great powers," including the United States.

James A. Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, visiting the Spanish capital and due for a conference with Franco today, also has advocated renewal of diplomatic relations with Spain. He said this would be done without delay and added:

"We have helped the countries of Europe in their fight on Communistic inroads. Spain's position on Communism is well known. If trouble faces us in the future, Spain would be an important ally."

Well, now, this development is of more than passing interest in view of the fact that France has been made to stand in the corner as the bad lad of Europe.

Communist Russia and her satellites have, of course, been among Franco's bitterest and most active enemies because the Spanish government he overthrew in 1939 was strongly leftist. As a matter of fact the Soviet Union gave the republic material aid in the fight against Franco.

Still, Franco's greatest sin was in accepting aid from Nazi Hitler and Fascist Mussolini, and then, in the view of many observers, showing sign of reciprocating in some degree. Nothing in fact, strikes a lot of observers that the important thing now is how long it would take a sinner to purge himself of enough so that he can return to the international fold.

The United States state department yeste day reaffirmed its cold-shoulder policy toward Franco. De pite this it is given to wonder whether a situation is developing in which the democracies may be called upon to decide whether France has been punished enough.

Brushing Up Old Familiarity With French Language

Recently my wife and I decided it was high time we stopped drooling helplessly every time a freighter pulled out of the harbor mouth headed for distant horizons. We sat down together one night, planned a trip to France, stamped it "1949" and started repairing the ruins of our high school French.

There was precious little to start with, since we both appear to have had consistent records in school as the class idiots. And there was precious little left.

A pooling of our combined knowledge of the language revealed some strange odds and ends, such as the ability to enquire after the health of the sister of my aunt, identify a blackboard, count to ten and ask the direction to the nearest men's washroom, the latter interrogation being a wartime accomplishment of mine in that country.

It seemed fairly obvious that this smattering of ignorance would hardly be enough to get us around the country, or, for that matter, through the customs. So we looked up the classified ads, found a gentleman offering his services as private tutor and arranged to launch ourselves on a prolonged series of weekly lessons.

The first two of these events have taken place and already we find ourselves with a giddy confidence allowing, of course, for the usual margin of error. (My wife, in demonstrating her new fluency with French waiters at our "class" the other night, briskly ordered a pound of beer and a glass of butter.)

Come next summer, at this rate, we may be equipped to hold a fine, literate conversation with any three-year-old French child we may encounter.

Eager Students

I never appreciated what those veterans went through in returning to university as "old men" among the comparative youngsters until my wife and I, clutching our new copies of Hugo's French Simplified under our arms, went nervously off to the home of our teacher.

Our wife had developed a severe case of the titters and was wildly suggesting that we greet our new acquaintance in unison with a ringing "Bon Jour!" or, perhaps take him an apple. It was all mildly confusing to The Kid to hear us talking about homework and such and carrying on in a most kittenish manner.

Of course it wasn't nearly the ordeal it promised to be. Nothing of the sort. After the introductions (in basic English) we made ourselves comfortable in our teacher's den, began smoking innumerable cigarettes, and laid bare the full depths of our ignorance. If this came as a stunning shock to our friend he at least had the decency and good humor to refrain from burying his head in his hands.

In discussing it later, Brown Eyes and I were inclined to agree that the largest barrier in the way of learning for those of us nudging middle age is the reluctance to appear stupid.

We both had some sharp pangs of false shame in revealing ourselves as a brace of dolts, a silly matter of pride which our tutor had to break down. He did this very adroitly by having us read the cover page of a French edition of Eaton's catalogue. After we'd each tortured the language all pretense evaporated and we got down to business.

It soon became apparent, too, that the young and uncultured mind of the high school student is a much more efficient receptacle for learning than the minds of two people whose efficiency in memorizing the Imperfect Tenses may be impaired by fretting about the winter's coal supply.

There's Also Lighter Side

The thing which appears to be standing in the way of my own mastery of the language at the moment is a fascination with the strange choice of idioms that seem to abound in all French texts.

While my wife is busily studying her vocabulary I am back rolicking through the idioms. I am ready, even, now to enliven any conversation with such off-hand remarks as "The surgeon will cut his leg off." "We used to tire ourselves in order to sleep well." "Does the wood smell of oil?" "The banker has been robbed of a hundred thousand francs," or "The walls are about five feet thick."

We have been entranced, too, with another text featuring some lively dialogue, such as this:

He: Don't talk like that about Freda.

She: I'll talk how I like. How dare you say it was Fredi! I was the only woman in his life. He wasn't surrounded by herds of frizzy-haired Fredas.

He: Evidently not a popular man.

She: You beast! (ecstatant sanglotes). It was because he didn't encourage them. He didn't want anyone but me.

He: In justice to Freda I must insist that the cigarette case she sent me was the gold one.

She: I hate you! I hate you! It's a pity you didn't ask Freda to marry you . . . .

And on . . . Useless, perhaps, but very, very French.

All true educators since the time of Socrates and Plato have agreed that the primary object of education is the attainment of inner harmony, of fusing all into more up-to-date language, the integration of the personality. Without such an integration learning is no more than a collection of scraps, and the accumulation of knowledge becomes a danger to mental health.

Boston Captures Opener 1 to 0

WILD THROW

Even after Holmes' hit, scoring Masi, there was trouble ahead for Sain. He put two out in the ninth. Then to the dismay of the 40,135 chilled fans who paid $180,122.22, Bob Elliott threw Ken Keltner's bounder high over Earl Torgeson's head for a two-base error.

Instead of being disturbed by the wild heave, Sain calmly went to work on Walt Dunbrich to make him his sixth strikeout victim. He didn't walk a batter.

Until the eighth Feller had a little the better of it in this stirring duel of two of the best righthanders in baseball. He allowed only one hit in six innings to four off the curve-balling Sain.

RICKERT SINGLES

The fireballing 19-game winner of the American league champs, working free and easy all the way, had a no-hitter for four innings. Then Marv Rickert, the last second substitute for the injured Jeff Heath, lashed a single to right to open the fifth.

Ken Keltner singled off Sain in the second and Jim Hegan became a base runner on Bob Elliott's fumble of his grounder in the third. He stole second but was left stranded.

Joe Gordon collected the second Indian hit off the tobacco-chewing Arkansan with a fourth-inning single. He, too, stole second but never advanced past that station.

HIGH AND DRY

Hegan singled with one out in the fifth and was moved to second on Feller's sacrifice. He was left high and dry.

The persistent Indians continued to judge Sain gently in the sixth. Larry Doby, the first Negro ever to play a series for an American League team, singled to centre. He also got as far as second, but no farther.

Feller mowed down the Braves in order in the sixth.

FIRST INNING

INDIANS — Sain's first pitch to lead - off batter Mitchell was a ball. Mitchell hit the next serve to Mike McCormick in left centre field. Doby swung at a three-and-two pitch and lofted an easy fly to McCormick in dead centre. The crowd gave Manager Boudreau a fine ovation as he came to bat. Boudreau looked at a called strike and a ball, then fouled out to Rickert near the left field boxes.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

BRAVES—Holmes looked at two balls, took a strike, then lined to Doby in left centre field. Doby sent a slow bounder to Robinson, who barely beat the runner to the bag, sliding into first base for the putout. Torgeson was called out on strikes.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING

INDIANS—Gordon looked at a third strike. With the count two and two, Keltner shot a single over Elliott's head. It was the first hit of the series. Judnich lined to Holmes, and Keltner just managed to beat the throw back to first base on an attempted double play. Torgeson got down on his knee to make a nice stop of Robinson's wicked smash down the first baseline, and stepped on the bag for the unassisted putout.

BRAVES—Judnich came in fast to gather in Elliott's soft fly in short right. Rickert lofted to Doby in right centre. Salkeld struck out on three pitches.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING

INDIANS—Elliott failed to hold Hegan's sharp grounder and was charged with an error as the runner reached first safely. Feller missed two attempts to bunt, then struck out swinging at a high one. Mitchell fouled to Elliott, who made the catch in back of the third base coacher's box. Hegan took advantage of Sain's slow windup and stole second, sliding in ahead of Salkeld's throw with plenty to spare. Doby bounced directly to Dark who tossed him out.

No runs, no hits, one error, one left.

BRAVES—McCormick offered at Feller's first pitch and sent an easy pop to Boudreau in short left field. Stanky fouled off a couple of pitches, then popped to Keltner. Sain fouled to Robinson, who caught the ball close to the first base field boxes.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING

INDIANS—Boudreau struck out. He foul tipped the third strike but Salkeld held on to the ball. Gordon singled into centre, the ball skipping by Dark's outstretched glove. Keltner struck out on a hit and run play, and when Salkeld dropped the third strike, Gordon reached second, credited with a stolen base. Salkeld had to throw to Torgeson at first to retire Keltner. Judnich flied to Holmes.

BRAVES—Holmes rapped back to Feller, who speared the ball on one bounce and threw to Robinson for the out. Gordon scooped up Dark's grounder and threw him out. Torgeson walked on five pitches to become the first Boston base runner. Torgeson stole second sliding in ahead of Hegan's high throw which pulled Gordon off the bag. Mitchell came in fast to gather in Elliott's looping fly just inside the third base foul line.

FIFTH INNING

INDIANS—Robinson fouled off a curve and then reached out and golfed another curve to Holmes who made the catch in short right. Hegan poked a single into left. Feller laid down a neat sacrifice, Salkeld fielding the ball in front of the plate and threw to Torgeson at first for the putout as Hegan took second. Mitchell swung under another of Sain's curved balls and sent an easy fly to Rickert in short left.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING

INDIANS—Doby rapped a single through the centre of the diamond. With the hit and run play on, Boudreau smacked a one-bouncer to Stanky who tossed him out, Doby taking second. Sain attempted to pick Doby off second but the runner slid back safely. Gordon flied to Rickert in left centre, Doby holding second. Keltner sent Rickert back almost to the left field wall for his 350-foot line drive.

BRAVES—Sain hit Feller's first pitch on one bounce to Boudreau, who tossed him out. With a count of three and two, Holmes raised an easy fly to Mitchell who caught the ball without moving from his tracks. Doby sauntered in to take Dark's lazy fly in shallow centre.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING

INDIANS — Judnich flied to Holmes who made the catch about 15 feet in front of the right field fence. Robinson sent an easy fly to Holmes in short right field. McCormick came in fast to catch Hegan's attempted bid for a Texas leaguer.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

BRAVES—Robinson raced to his right and made a brilliant gloved hand stop of Torgeson's sharp smash and tossed underhanded to Feller who covered first for the out on a very close play. Feller sustained a superficial spike wound but after a moment of rest was able to continue pitching. Feller grabbed Elliott's high bouncer near the third base foul line and just managed to nip the runner with a long throw to first. Rickert popped a 1-1 pitch to Boudreau, who made the catch just inside the left field foul line behind third base. Feller was relying mostly on curve balls, occasionally whizzing in his famed fast one.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING

INDIANS — Feller went down swinging to become Sain's fifth strikeout victim. Mitchell flied to M. McCormick in deep centre field Rickert scampered across the left field line to haul in Doby's high foul fly.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

BRAVES—Salkeld walked on five pitches. Phil Masi was sent in to run for Salkeld. McCormick rolled a sacrifice bunt along the first baseline and was out, Feller to Robinson, as Masi took second. Stanky was given an intentional base on balls. Sibby Slati ran for Stanky. Sain lined Feller's first pitch right into Judnich's hands and the runners held their bases. Feller threw to Boudreau in an attempt to pick off second but the runner sifted back on his stomach safely. Boudreau put up a mild protest but soon subsided. Holmes swung at an outside pitch and singled between Keltner and third base, Masi scoring. On Mitchell's throw to the plate Slati raced from second to third and Holmes moved to second. Dark slapped a grounder to Keltner, who threw him out.

One run, one hit, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING

INDIANS—Masi replaced Salkeld behind the plate and Slati replaced Stanky at second for the Braves. Boudreau took a strike, then sent McCormick back almost to the left centre field wall for his long smash. Dark caught Gordon's high pop foul about 20 feet behind third base. Elliott pulled down Keltner's high bouncer but threw wild to first and Keltner reached second on the error. The ball bounced into the stands and Keltner was automatically awarded second base. Judnich missed two curved balls and then looked at another to become Sain's sixth strikeout victim, ending the game.

Drew Hints Renewal Of Star Libel Suit

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Premier George Drew of Ontario last night said in an interview he had received a telegram informing him of the Supreme Court of Canada action allowing him a new trial in his $100,000 "Gestapo" libel suit against the Toronto Daily Star.

He said he was still considering the matter and it was too early to make any comment. However, there was every indication that he would continue the fight because of the "principle" involved.

The Ontario premier, chosen last Saturday as national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, is resting up for a few days at the Seigniory Club, about 50 miles northeast of Ottawa.

The Supreme Court yesterday released a judgment agreeing with the Ontario appeal court's order for a new trial. But because the Ontario premier's three-year-old suit is a civil one, he may withdraw it from the courts at any time.

Rapid Robert Logical Pick Says Boudreau

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—(AP) — Lou Boudreau, a cool customer who believes in cold logic, will send Bob Feller to the mound for Cleveland Indians today in the first game of the World Series against Boston Braves because he figures Rapid Robert his best pitcher.

"Feller is the logical choice," Boudreau explained as the Indians went through a workout on windy Braves Field Tuesday.

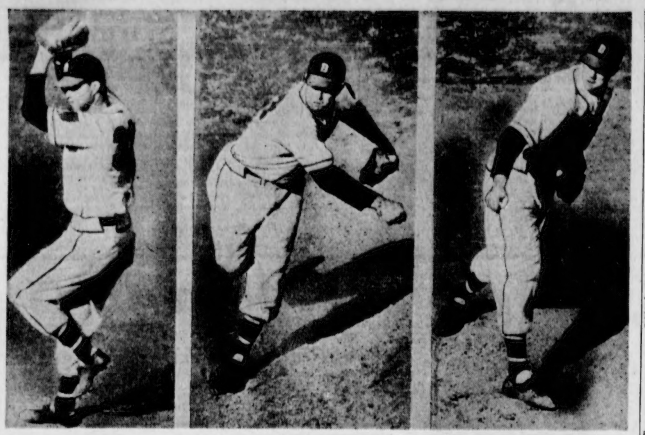
"Feller only worked 2 1-3 innings Sunday. He will be ready; his arm won't be tired," Boudreau continued. "By starting him in the first game I can use him again in the series. Bob Lemon goes in the second game and Gene Bearden in the third. I haven't decided on any pitchers beyond those three starters."

On another part of the field, Feller agreed he had suffered no ill effects from Sunday's brief and painful appearance.

"I was a little tired afterwards, of course, but my arm wasn't stiff or sore. There's nothing wrong with it. Sometimes I think you come back better after a bad day," he explained.

A photographer asked Lou if he could help get three or four of the club's heavy hitters together for a group picture.

"Three or four heavy hitters!" Boudreau exclaimed in dismayed tones. "We don't have 'em."



Braves' Johnny Sain in Important Role

TROUBLE SHOOTER for the National League today is Boston's Johnny Sain, who drew the important assignment of trying to stop Cleveland's Bob Feller in the 1948 World Series opener.

Extra Week Would Help NHL Coaches

By The Canadian Press

There's one scant week to go before the National Hockey League season opens. But many a coach in the loop wouldn't mind an extra week to whip his squad into shape.

Both Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens still are shifting forward lines, while Chicago Black Hawks haven't yet decided on a first-string netminder.

WIDE-OPEN BATTLE

Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens has six forwards in a wide-open battle for positions on his third line. Jacques Locas, Kenny p Mondel, Murph Chamberlain, Tod Campeau, Eddie Dorohoy and Gerry Plamondon all are hot after the job.

Railbirds say rookie George Robertson is fitting in like a glove on the punch line. The 21-year-old Winnipeg-born speedster apparently has clinched the left-wing job alongside Elmer Lach and Maurice Richard after a brilliant showing in the Habs western exhibition tour.

Irvin figures the second line probably will be Billy Reay pivoting Joe Carveth and Norm Dussault.

ASSORTMENT OF LINES

Dit Clapper, Boston Bruins' boss, plans an assortment of forward lines for tonight's exhibition clash with Hershey Cubs of the American league. Bruins still have three exhibition games before opening at Toronto Oct. 16.

Bruin officials admitted yesterday they were "just a little slow" in lining up talent, but said this year they thought they had a prize crop of rookies.

They signed three of them last night: Dave Creighton, left winger, and Pete Durham, defence, both from the 1947 Allan Cup winners, Port Arthur Bruins, and Bill Maloney, 29-year-old centre from Shawinigan Falls, Que.

Part of a campaign to rebuild Montreal Canadiens after last year's dismal showing, general manager Frank Selke last night announced Lawrence (Spud) Russell was the new head scout of Canadiens. Russel former Winnipeg minor-league coach, ran the Montreal tryout school at Port Arthur, Ont., this year.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Recreation Group Plans Sport Forum

Edmonton Recreation Commission, in co-operation with the extension department of the University of Alberta, will present weekly sports forums at the USO hall every Friday throughout the winter.

Announcement of the forums, the first one to be held Friday, was made Tuesday night by Jack Reilly of the Commission. The weekly meetings will be from 7:00-8:00 p.m. each Friday.

Program will consist of instructional films on sports and is free to all males over 10 years of age. All sports will be covered and any organization may request the filming of any picture dealing with that particular activity.

LAUDABLE PURPOSE

Reilly said the purpose of the program is to provide "good, clean entertainment for the youngsters and to instill in their minds the fact that playing a game doesn't mean just picking up a bat and letting go at the ball."

The program will endeavor to teach the fundamentals of each sport, enabling the youngsters to play their games with more skill, thus cutting down the danger of injury.

Looking further into the future, Reilly said the Commission plans to have sport schools in operation next summer with qualified instructors to give practical training in all phases of sport covered on the program.

"Parents are urged to encourage their youngsters to attend these programs as sport has many values to aid the children through life," Reilly said. "Personality, physical fitness, intellectual efficiency, moral qualities and social habits are a few of the values."

CURRIE TO BE PRESENT

Frank Currie, coach of the Edmonton Flyers, and one or two of his players will speak at the first meeting after the hockey picture, "Hot Ice", is shown.

The training of members of the Recreation Boxing Club will follow the show and the public is invited to watch such headliners as Gord Riddell, Bob Bacon and Pete Nuthall in action.

FRANK CURRIE

Lach Warmish In Exhibition

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Oct. 6.—(CP)—Goals were plentiful Tuesday night when Reds whipped Whites 14-7 as coach Dick Irvin split his Montreal Canadiens into two squads for an exhibition game.

Canadiens wind up their three-game Saskatchewan series at Regina Wednesday night.

Elmer Lach, Canadiens' great centre, playing before a former hometown crowd of 1,345, sparked the winners. He bagged two goals and made the plays for three others.

Linemate Maurice Richard planted the rubber behind Gerry McNeil three times to top the goal getters. Ed Dorohoy, Lethbridge rookie, picked up three assists.

McGill 'Wuz Robbed' At Wrestling Show

Pat McGill 'wuz robbed' before 1,500 wrestling fans at the stock pavilion Tuesday night.

The handsome Fighting Argyll from San Francisco was disqualified in the main event for roughing up Tiger Joe Marsh more than somewhat.

But prior to choking the balding Tiger, McGill absorbed the fanciest collection of tough stuff seen in an Edmonton ring this fall. Marsh stooped to every trick in the trade, including biting, gouging, punching and hair pulling.

As it developed each contestant won a single fall in the best-of-three fall match. McGill, the hero, first lowered the boom on his adversary with a combination drop-kick and body press in the 16th minute of action.

PAINFUL BLOCKBUSTER

Less than 15 minutes later Tiger, the villain, applied his painful blockbuster hold to secure the equalizing fall. Ingredients of the blockbuster, as demonstrated last evening, were a hammerlock about McGill's neck, coupled with a severe pounding against the ring post.

Marsh came out slugging after the second-fall intermission. He succeeded in busting McGill on the nose and mouth to knock him through the ring.

McGill, with blood streaming from his face, retaliated. When the Fighting Argyll pinned Marsh and proceeded to apply the choking treatment referee Wally Beaumont levied the disqualification penalty.

BARRAGE OF PAPER

Fans greeted the decision with a barrage of paper cups and verbal abuse, but Marsh fled before the mob could deal with him.

In the semi-windup Stu Hart, popular local boy, and Johnny Kurzyza, the Russian count from Kentucky, battled to a draw. This 45-minute affair was clean and fast, with both men displaying a variety of holds.

Kurzyza is a graduate in science from Ohio State and impressed as a clean-cut, colorful performer.

Jerry Meeker, who promotes wrestling on the side at Great Falls, Montana, had too much on the ball for burly Dave Buhl in the preliminary. Meeker pinned the Hanna farmer with a series of elbow smashes to the head and chest at 21 minutes.

Rayner Quits Net To Earn Assist

QUEBEC, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Frank Boucher's New York Rangers of the National Hockey League scored almost all will Tuesday night as they routed Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League 10-2 in an exhibition game before 3,000 fans.

Despite the protests of Aces and the referee, goalie Chuck Rayner of New York played up the ice for the last 10 minutes of play—and was officially credited with an assist on one Ranger goal.

Williams Tops Lou by 14 Points

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The American League playoff game between Boston and Cleveland shaved one percentage point off Ted Williams' season average, but his final .369 gave the Red Sox slugger his second straight batting title by a 14-point margin.

Runner-up was Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, whose rousing four-for-four hitting, which helped his club to an 8-3 playoff win over the Red Sox, lifted him three points to a final .355.

New York's Joe DiMaggio was the league's slugging champion with 39 home runs and 156 runs batted-in.

Boston's Jack Kramer had the best pitching percentage, .783, on an 18-5 record. Cleveland's Gene Bearden, by winning the do-or-die playoff game for the tribe, had a final 20-7 record. Bearden, Detroit's Hal Newhouser (21-12), and Cleveland's Bob Lemon (20-14) were the league's only 20-game winners.

PAUL KIRK'S ESKS GET THEIR LIGHTS

It didn't take Paul Kirk's Eskimo gridders long to get what they wanted—a practice under lights.

It was only last week they were locked out of Clarke Stadium. The City Parks Department was alleged to have bolted the doors to preserve the turf for soccer in the spring.

The intermediates protested and as a result the city went to work erecting lights for practice purposes on the east field. A scrimmage, with full equipment, will be held there Wednesday night, starting at 7 o'clock.

Tentative arrangements have been made for the Eskimos to tackle junior All-Stars on the main Stadium field Sunday.

Hi School Grid Dope

By Jim McCurdy

Baseball, World Series variety, gets underway in Boston today when the hometown Braves tangle with Cleveland's battling Indians.

The Series holds plenty of interest in city high schools, particularly among the more athletically-minded students. Another sport, however, also is coming in for a lot of student attention—high school football which hits the halfway mark of its first season in 10 years this weekend.

So far it looks like Scona, the Yellow Jackets from the South Side, will walk off with top honors under the leadership of fullback Doug Swail, halfback and captain Jim Pritchard and cagy quarterback Cliff Kulak. A line anchored by Laurie Hodgson and Al Rivers at guard is one of the toughest in the tight six-team loop.

The "Fighting Irish" from St. Joe's also pack a power to be reckoned with. However their stock dropped somewhat following that 7-0 defeat at the hands of Scona last Saturday. Still, anything can happen yet in the three games each club has left to play before the sudden-death final rolls around Oct. 29.

The Sep squad has the most experienced mentor in the league in Steve Olander, ex-Western Conference star with Winnipeg and Edmonton teams. He has several dangerous backs under his command in Bill Hortie, Os Barry and Bill McNally, each of whom can turn on the drive and speed. Tackles Larry Martindale and Bob Gourdine know how to rip an opposing line to shreds from their forward wall positions when the occasion arises.

Next in line must come the heavy, but inexperienced, Victoria team under another Steve, this time the youthful Stephen Mendryk who still takes a whirl as a junior league quarterback for Maple Leafs.

The Vic "Crimson Tide" is handicapped because they have only four players who have played the 12-man game before this season.

The beefy line needs training, and they are getting plenty from Mendryk, so that the backfield, headed by quarterback Jack Morrison, should soon be able to get room to run in. Bob Stocks, Barry McMillan and John Polonuk also could shine behind a more experienced line.

Another drawback is that the linemen always seem to turn around to watch the ball carrier, at the same time making no more than a feeble attempt to block their opponents.

The Garneau-University Combine and the Eastwood teams seem to run next off their two showings to date. While Eastwood has three points to their credit, the teams evened off at 6-6 last Friday.

Sid Bercov, husky fullback, and half Derek Batchelior spark the Combine from the rear ranks with able assistance from Bob Leah. The front line does not appear to have any outstanding players but it is a good average defensive set-up.

Eastwood boasts a top contender for The Bulletin's all-star team, to be picked at the season's end by coaches of the six teams, in quarterback Walter Hewko. His backfield partners are a well balanced lot with Carl Hartson the only one who properly could be termed triple-threat. Hartson does most of his club's kicking, is a good ball runner and a fair passer from his halfback slot.

Fullback Nestor Waluk and Bob Hepburn, the other half, also shine on occasion.

All of which leaves Doug McNabb's Westglen, the loop's outweighed and outgunned club. No team has more fight or team spirit—or less weight.

Most valuable player nod on the club would almost have to go to Walt Keckalo, who sparks the whole line from his tackle position.

The west enders have gone down 14-0 to Eastwood and 11-0 to Victoria in their two starts but might surprise one of these nights and come up with a victory. Backfielders Gord Pearson and Cecil Podolsky try manfully to ring up points but as yet have had no success.

This Friday Scona tangles with Eastwood and we like the South Siders by three touchdowns. The nightcap sees St. Joe's scrap with Westglen in what should be the Irish, also by three touchdowns. Westglen should get their first points of the season in this one.

Saturday, Garneau-University and Vic will battle.

No Room Shortage In Cleveland—Yet

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Unless the World Series continues into next Monday, rooms will be found for all visitors in Cleveland, the Convention and Visitors Bureau promised today.

"Many people who want to get into our hotels will have to be satisfied with rooms in private homes, but there will be plenty of those," a bureau official said.

The hitch if the series runs through Monday is that 3,500 deluxe rates to a convention start arriving Sunday night.

Ticket scalpers already were reported cutting the current prices being asked for $6.25 reserved seats by scalpers was $25.

Torchy Peden In 6-Day Race

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 6.—(AP) — Thirty bike racers matched speed, skill and endurance Tuesday night as Buffalo's 12th international six-day race started in Memorial Auditorium.

The 147-hour grind revives a sport missing here for seven years.

Three teams are regarded generally as favorites. They are Angelo Di Bacca and Cesare Moretti of Italy; Hugo Kobler and Albert Diggelman of Switzerland and Francis Grauss and Andre Pousse of France.

Torchy Peden of Victoria and Rene Cyr of Montreal are paired in the event. Laurent Gadou of Montreal is partnered with Mickey Francoise of Montclair, N.J.

The average person is estimated to walk 18,098 or 7½ miles a day.

Native Sons

Doug Kilburn, fiery EAC junior of last season, is currently working out with Ed Bruchet's Lethbridge Native Sons, Alkgit Cup champions. Kay Strate, Maple Leaf product, also plans to line up with the south contingent.

Clairvoyant Picks Braves from Crystal Ball

By DICK BEDDOES

Step up, you lucky people, up closer so those in the back can hear, and we'll tell you who is going to win the World Series.

It will be Boston Braves in six games.

We pass on this delicious bit of information to you courtesy of Madame Clairvoyant, a psychic peer out of a Jasper Avenue tea room.

It took us considerable time, and a buck-fifty, to learn that the Braves from Back Bay will outfox the Cleveland Indians in the 1948 baseball classic.

There aren't many fortune tellers in Edmonton, but we finally stumbled across a little place on lower Jasper, meaning the east side where Madame Clairvoyant professes to tell all from the tea leaves down. There was a certain air about the place, brought about in part, at least, by the windows having remained closed since the days of the R. B. Bennett government.

And the good Madame has been there for 16 years, aging like good wine, and forecasting with amazing success such happenings as variations in the annual hatch of pink-eyed peewees.

In other words, Madame Clairvoyant, if you'll pardon the expression, knows her onions.

You wait a considerable time for the Madame. On the menu her qualifications state that she professes by mental telepathy, Hindu philosophy, and intentional psychology. She also is reputed to see the day after tomorrow's sport pages, but requires a dried haddock for supper to accomplish this phenomenon.

Finally Clairvoyant was ready and we delved into the whys and wherefores of Indians vs. Braves.

"Who are the respective managers?" she asked.

The answer was old Billy Southworth for the Braves and youthful Lou Boudreau for Indians, both respected in their business, with the latter having a healthy option on the home run market.

Came a lot of card shuffling and murky-crystal gazing before Madame intoned:

"Southworth and Boudreau are under similar signs, and because the light is good, each will benefit."

That sounded plausible. Both Indians and Braves figure to jingle great pocketsfull of change before the series is over.

"But," she continued, "this Southworth is an old and wise chief. He will lead his Braves up Boston's Beacon Hill to glory."

That was hard to swallow, considering Cleveland figures to outweigh Boston in hitting and pitching departments. It seemed as though it would take more than a dried haddock to concoct a Boston triumph.

Clairvoyant was about finished. But for an extra quarter she cut a cold deck and made with some monkey-shines between the sandman and the fourth dimension. Then with eyes half-shut, she intoned:

"Come you pitchers Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, your chief Hiawatha Southworth has a battle with the Siwash Indians from the mid-west."

She shuffled the cards and we selected four of them—two for Southworth and two for Mr. Boudreau.

Boudreau got the deuce of hearts and four of spades. She intimated this wasn't good for Lou.

Southworth came up two kings—clubs and spades.

"There it is," Clairvoyant said, "Spahn and Sain are the kings, and they'll finish off Boudreau and tribe in six games."

Thus Clairvoyant spoke.

A Chance For Coal Money

Musings at midweek . . . and did you know that Mrs. Earl Robertson's O My Dear (trainer: Mr. Earl Robertson) beat off a field of easterners at Toronto's Woodbine the other afternoon and the payoff was in China? . . . In fact for a modest outlay of six bucks, a number of loyal westerners toted away a sizeable $104, with win tickets alone netting $73 and some silver . . . Just back from a holiday jaunt to the west coast, Johnny Munro, Alberta governor of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, brings a glowing report of the recent Canadian Open, particularly as to the manner in which it was conducted . . . "American professionals now rate our tournament in the top three of four played anywhere," Munro puts it . . . Of the Canadians who took part the Edmontonian spilled over at length about Pat Fletcher, onetime pro at the Highlands and Edmonton Country Club and amateur Walt McElroy, Vancouver . . . Fletcher, now the big man at Saskatoon Golf and Country Club, hit the ball more like the tourney-hardened U.S. invaders than did the other boys who learned the game on this side of the line . . . Of youthful McElroy, the voluble Scot had this to say: "Definitely the sensation of the tournament."

Portrait of a man on a limb: He's Connie Mack, patriarchal manager of Philadelphia Athletics who is on record (quote), "Cleveland Indians will defeat Boston Braves four straight."

Must Be That 10 Per Cent

If it isn't one thing it's another when a fellow is trying to line up a hockey team . . . But it's a fact that a number of sought-after-players have passed up come-ons by Kenny McKenzie and Coley Hall, New Westminster and Vancouver, respectively, in favor of offers from U.S. entries in the same Pacific Coast league because they prefer getting paid off in American rather than Canadian dollars . . . Oh to live as does Frank Stranahan, the Toledo strongboy . . . Latest reports show the Canadian amateur champion grabbing off second place in the Brazilian Open, winner being one Mario Gonzales . . . This same character Gonzales must know a thing or two about the game, considering he tossed a 72-hole total of 270 at rich-boy Stranahan to take it all by a single stroke . . . And where-are-they-now department: Norm Kirk is drilling with New Westminster Royals, Eddie Shamlock has taken up residence in Fresno, Calif. (hockey plans apparently obscure) and Bill Richardson, the Camrose speedster, is in Minneapolis, where he stands a good chance of catching on with Bill Cook's Millers of the United States puck whirl.

When Jeff Heath, Boston outfielder who won't get to play in the series, was with Cleveland Indians, he roomed with the great Bob Feller, who will get to play—and in a big way.

Meet Owner 'Snap' Lawson

Latest addition to the list of thoroughbred owners in these parts is 'Snap' Lawson, the onetime contract rider for 'Liz' Whitney . . . Lawson, whose preoccupation for the oil game brought him this way from Oklahoma close to two years ago, recently picked off a pair of oat destroyers at the coast and will campaign them on the prairies next year . . . Al Rollins will celebrate his 22nd birthday come Saturday and it well might be that the netminding job with Chicago Black Hawks will be tossed his way as a present . . . Whatever happened to all those plans major league clubowners had for running 'Happy' Chandler out of his office as commissioner? . . . The personable man from Kentucky seems to be growing in stature all the time . . . It appears that Pete Olynyk, Tommy Morrison's right hand man at Mayfair, might carve out some sort of future for himself in Arizona golfing circles—if he had the yen . . . While playing in the Canadian Open at Vancouver, Olynyk reportedly received an offer of employment from a club in Tucson . . . He very likely turned it down, explaining that he was very happy making his cake and tea money at the present stand.

Iffy, the Dopester, latest addition to the sports staff, wants to know "won't there be a lot of red faces if the Braves tip over the Clevelanders?"

Lee Williams Just Misses As Top Prairie Turf Winner

Lee Williams, popular Edmonton horseman came mighty close to establishing himself as leading thoroughbred owner on the prairies for 1948, according to statistics released Tuesday in Winnipeg by the R. James Speers corporation.

For want of further winnings of less than $500 Williams had to take second place behind Gordon O'Bray, a transplanted easterner who now calls Calgary his home. The totals showed like this: O'Bray, $13,240, Williams, $12,780.

VICTORY GIFT 4TH

Lou Marks, Kentuckian who ran afoul of authorities just before the season ended, when a saliva test administered to one of his horses showed positive, was third at $12,195. Then came "Scotty" Kennedy's one horse stable of Victory Gift with $11,405, just for Winnipeg appearances alone.

"My best season? Sure. I guess it was," owner Williams agreed at his west end home Tuesday night.

His greatest moment undoubtedly came when Franks Mistake, his starry three-year-old, copped the Alberta Derby, run here, in August. It was Williams' first triumph in the classic, despite the fact that he has raced on the prairies for more than 20 years.

UPS AND DOWNS

American born (near New York City), Mr. Williams came to Edmonton in 1911. He first campaigned harness horses, later branching out into the thoroughbred game. He has had his downs, as well as his ups. There was one season when he raced six head hereabouts and won just one purse. At present four of his current string—the aforementioned Franks Mistake, Air Cadet, Fair Ida and Withernarris—are in the east with trainer Earl Robertson.

Incidentally, Robertson, with 19 wins, was second leading trainer in the west. Again that man Gordon O'Bray, who doubles as owner-trainer, took top honors with 21 winning efforts.

MILLS IN MIDDLE OF RING QUARREL

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(BUP)—Promoter Jack Solomons declared Tuesday that Freddie Mills, world light heavyweight champion, "is under contract to me to defend his title when called upon."

Solomons said he could not understand why Promoter Andy Niederreiter of New York thought he, too, had Mills under contract for a title defense.

Monday Niederreiter cabled a request to the British Boxing Board of Control that Mills be deprived of his crown unless he goes through with a contract for a return title bout with Gus Lesnevich under Niederreiter's promotion.

Varsity Bears Tackle Juniors on Thursday

Football again crashes the spotlight at Clarke Stadium Thursday evening.

Providing the excitement will be Don Smith's Varsity Golden Bears and Jack Butchart's junior All-Stars. Starting time for the scrap is eight bongs by the Post Office clock.

The Maple Leaf-RAC All-Stars' roster will be dotted with such classy performers as Rae Enright, Doug McNabb, Jack Ross and Jim Stewart, to name a few.

Even at that it will be their sternest test of the season. The juniors fought tooth-and-nail with Paul Kirk's intermediate Eskimos before bowing out 5-3 last week. But Smith's Bears, top-kicks of the prairie college football scene, will be a harder line to hold.

However, the juniors shouldn't fare any worse than Saskatchewan Huskies are faring.

Following are the men likely to be used by the Stars:

Subs—Little, Baldwin, Scott, Dingwall, Ayre, Leslie, Melnychuk, Andrechuk, Kimball, Hukalo, Aubrey, Ross.

Bill Veeck's Head 'Bloody but Unbowed'

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Before the Indians settled down to the business of belting over the Red Sox in the one-game American league pennant race Monday, president Bill Veeck made some cracks about his head being "bloody but unbowed."

And part-owner Hank Greenberg remarked "It's a beautiful day for the game. I wish we didn't have to play it." We haven't figured out yet what they were worrying about. They had a guy named Lou Boudreau out there who did a good job of taking care of things. Two hoisers is about all you could expect of a guy who also has to shoulder the task of managing a ball club.

NO BOOS FOR BOUDREAU

The World Series looms as an interesting master-minding test between Boudreau and the comparatively aging Billy Southworth . . . Billy is the king of "percentage," who must carry a logarithm table around with him. Boudreau's way of figuring the chances was illustrated when he started Allie Clark at first base Monday because "we were merely going for the one game."

Allie will return to the outfield against left-handed pitching in the World Series . . . And another example when the "old pro" Joe Gordon dropped Ted Williams' pop fly. Lou merely said "tough try." That sun was brutal . . . Southworth is the kind of guy who can be sympathetic at the right time too . . .

ONE MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

A broadcasting company offered $50,000 for the rights to Monday's playoff game and got them free when Tom Yawkey decided the struggle should be aired "as a public service." Bill Veeck, who knows how much a buck is worth, didn't like the idea.

Aga Khan's Horse In Gold Cup Race

LONDON, Oct. 6. — (AP) — The Aga Khan's three-year-old Nasrullah, winner of the Irish Derby, will be flown to New York to run in the $100,000 Empire City International Gold Cup at Belmont Park Oct. 16.

Trainer Frank Butters said Tuesday the colt will leave Sunday. Prince Aly Khan, son of the Aga, will fly to see the race.

The Gaekwar of Baroda's My Babu also is entered in the Gold Cup, but it has not been announced whether he will be sent. Baroda and the Aga Khan are neck and neck in a battle to become the leading money winner of the British turf this season.

Hockey Ticket Sale at Mike's

Sale will be resumed at Mike's from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, following which the Arena box office will open at 7 p.m. Regular league prices will prevail and all proceeds above expenses will be turned over to the Community Chest.

Options will not be honored.

Gorman Next Ottawa Mayor?

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Sports promoter T. P. (Tommy) Gorman Tuesday said he has been urged to seek election as mayor of Ottawa and said he would make an announcement later this week.

He said it was "a great surprise" when a 20-man deputation walked into his office a few days ago and suggested that he seek the job which Mayor Stanley Lewis is giving up after 12 years.

A native of Ottawa, Gorman managed various National Hockey League teams and now is manager of the Ottawa Forum company.

Saints Subdue Montrealers In 'Little Series' Opener

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Air-tight fielding and the five-hit pitching of Ezra (Pat) McGlothin gave St. Paul a 4-0 triumph over the Montreal Royals of the International League Tuesday night in the first game of the Little World Series. The Saints, American Association champions, scored all their runs in the seventh off Don Newcombe.

Newcombe gave up seven hits. Johnny Van Cuyk, who came in after Newcombe was lifted for a pinchhitter, allowed one more in the eighth.

Big gun in the Saints' attack was veteran Eric Tipton, who drove in two of their runs. An official attendance of 8,506 fans sat through a cold wind.

McGlothin, who threw a no-hitter against Milwaukee in the regular American Association season, was never in trouble. He struck out eight men. Only twice were the Royals able to put more than one man on base.

Montreal had successive singles by Al Gionfriddo and Lew Welaj to open the fourth, but Toby Atwell made a sensational throw from deep right field to nail Gionfriddo at third. A moment later Welaj was out in an attempted steal.

St. Paul batted around in the seventh. Ferrell Anderson opened with a single, George Fallow walked and McGlothin was safe on Bob Morgan's error. With the bases filled and one out, Jack Douglas singled to left, scoring Anderson. Johnny Jorgensen walked to load the sacks once more. Then, with two outs, Fallon scored on a wild pitch and Tipton drove home two more with a sharp single to left.

Woodall Calls Lane's Shot The Hardest in Flyer Camp

Keith Woodall, because he is a comparative newcomer to the Flyer camp, is not as hep to the overall situation as he will be—say—by Christmas time.

However of one thing he is certain: Doug Lane, the repatriate from the American league, has the hardest shot in the ranks of the Curriemen.

The boys were talking it over following last night's workout at the Arena, particularly goalies Woodall and Denny McManus, who might wind up in the Flyer picture as understudy to the boy from the east.

BOOMER GETS NOD

McManus was inclined to give the nod to Bud (Boomer) MacPherson. "I think he can unload a drive with plenty of sock from almost anywhere," the former Cap junior said of the giant rearguard who trained with Montreal Canadiens.

Woodall agreed that MacPherson packed a mean shot. But he also rated the Lane rifle as even more potent.

"I can generally get a line on Bud's drives," he explained. "But when Lane lets go from 15 feet or so I just hope he's not on the net. If he is—well, I just go looking for the puck behind me in that cage."

Lane unloaded with quite a number of hard drives as the Allan Cup champions cut training capers for the better part of 90 minutes. And while nothing actually will round them into real topnotch condition except a month or so of league play signs were beginning to multiply that the old legs, for one thing, are starting to come round.

CURRIE SILENT

Coach Currie had little to offer as to the probable lineup to face Kimberley Dynamiters at the Arena Saturday night. "I'll just wait for another couple of workouts before deciding very much," he passed it off.

Once again Doug Anderson, out of deference to his sore shoulder, watched from the sidelines. He should be back on skates by the end of the week. Freddy Smitten, convalescing from a recent onset of congested lungs, confined himself to a light skate.

According to Bernie Bathgate Calgary Stampeders have come up with a useful wingman in Johnny Milliard Bathgate played with Milliard at Vancouver last season, and is fast and capable of getting his share of goals."

Flyers will drill again tonight, starting at 6 o'clock.

Desjardins in Draw

CALGARY, Oct. 6. — (CP) — Al Slater and Wilf (Tuffy) Desjardins, both of Calgary, fought to a 10-round draw Tuesday night in a fight billed for the Western Canada lightweight boxing championship. Slater weighed in at 134, one-half pound lighter than his opponent.

Montreal Scout

MONTREAL, Oct. 6. — (CP) — Appointment of Lawrence (Spud) Russell of Winnipeg as full-time head scout for Montreal Canadiens was announced Tuesday night by Frank Selke, general manager of the club.

Russell, who was in charge of Canadiens' tryout school at Port Arthur this season, was active in coaching minor teams at Winnipeg Canadiens and Winnipeg Monarchs

MAIN, DE WITTS TEAM FOR NET WIN IN U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Lorne Main of Vancouver teamed Tuesday with Jerry De Witt, Vallejo, Calif., to win a second-round match in the United States hard court tennis tournament at the California club here.

The pair dropped the opening set to George Cossler, Berkeley, Calif., and Don Lowenstein, San Francisco, but came back strongly to run out the match 1-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Chorley Continues As Royal Chief

Jim Chorley, popular member of the Royal Bowling Club, was re-elected president at the annual general meeting held Tuesday night in the committee room of the Parliament Buildings.

Carl Gudfjerson was returned as vice-president, while William (Bill) McGruther was re-named secretary. Bert Giles again fills the treasurer's position. Only new member to the main executive is Horace Clark, who will act as assistant secretary.

The group laid plans for a get-together to be held next March. The semi-annual meeting will take place in April of 1949.

Founder of Nordegg Dies in New York

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Oct. 6.—Word has been received here of the death in New York of Martin Nordegg, 74, founder of the town of Nordegg and one of the principal shareholders in the large coal mine there.

Born in Germany, he changed his name, by Imperial consent, from Martin Cohen to Martin Nordegg. He was married twice, his first wife was a Miss Marcelle of France and his second wife, who survives him, was Polish. He was an accomplished linguist, speaking German, French, English, along with several other languages.

He came to Canada in 1905 and was interested in some of the first silver properties developed and which brought Ontario to the fore as a mineral province of Canada. Later he became associated with a British group and a Belgian group along with his German Development company in providing funds for the project to become known as the Brazeau Collieries of Nordegg.

Mr. Nordegg was one of the first in Ottawa to utilize telepoanic communication with Europe and spoke to Edward Benes, who later became president of Czechoslovakia.

Of later years, Mr. Nordegg spent his time between Ottawa and New York and being interested in placing political refugees and displaced persons from Europe, he served on committees for this work. Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter in New York.

VIKING TAG DAY ASSISTS BLIND

Sedgewick Society Plans Playgrounds

SEDGEWICK, Oct. 6. — Sedgewick Sports Society recently began to equip a playground for the kiddies in Sedgewick. It is situated west of the business section, in the same block as the tennis courts, the skating rink, and the curling rink.

As yet, only the swings and a slide are erected, but sand boxes and teeter-totters have been made and are waiting to be put up. Plans have been made for a wading pool also.

The sports society improved Browns' Lake in the summer. Two bathing houses were built and plans to drag the bottom are being considered. There is a possibility, too, of a dam to raise the water level.

Browns' Lake is one and one-half miles straight north of town, and if these plans are carried out, may be a real "Hot Weather Heaven" for the residents of Sedgewick.

Increased Tax Exemptions Seen

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—(CP)—John Diefenbaker, member of parliament for Lake Centre, Sask., said in an interview yesterday that he believed income tax exemptions would be raised substantially next spring in the federal government's next budget.

Returning home from the national convention of the Progresive Conservative party at Ottawa, Mr. Diefenbaker added that he did not think there would be another federal election until after the Liberal government brought down its next budget.

Drivers Uninjured As Trucks Collide

CONSORT, Oct. 6. — Returning to Consort late Tuesday night with a load of coal a truck owned by J. Booth of Consort collided with a truck owned by Mr. Levie of Loyalist on the No. 12 highway between Veteran and Throne.

The trucks apparently did not allow enough clearance and the left front corner of the truck boxes hooked into each other. The corner of the box on the Booth truck was broken but the box was torn from the Levie truck and damaged beyond repair.

Occupants of both vehicles escaped unharmed.

OLDS, Oct. 6. — Colder weather of the last week has speeded up building activities in the town. Bank of Montreal building on Main street is being hooked rapidly in order that the exterior might be completely finished.

Louis Hand, who arrived in Olds 35 years ago and who has operated the Arena Cafe for many years has sold out. The building is being renovated and will open shortly as a men's wear business.

Millet District Crops Are Uneven

MILLET, Oct. 6.—Farmers are taking advantage of the good weather to get their harvesting done. Crops are very uneven. Sellout Audience Gives Passion Play Big Ovation Here

ROTARY-SPONSORED Passion Play which opened two-week run at Strand Theatre Tuesday, necessitated much last minute scurrying on opening night to raise curtain in time. Despite obstacles, play, headed by Josef Meier as The Christus was sell-out success. Here Oscar Miller, who plays John, makes up Apostle Vic Irving, 16, of St. Anthony's College.

DRAMATIC SCENE from original Black Hills play is rehearsed for benefit of staff-photographer Eric Bland. The Christus (Josef Meier) lays a warning hand on Judas (Fred Hagan) and says: "Watch Judas that the tempter does not overtake thee." Reference is to pouch of money at Judas' belt. Veteran actor Hagan has played role a year and before joining Passion Play, toured world in legitimate theatre. —Photos by Bland

INCONGRUOUS PAIR who are poles apart in actual play don't seem to be troubled by opening-night jitters. Having just-before-curtain chat are good Veronica (left) and wicked Salome. In real life they are Jean Marsh and Ann Arden. Passion Play runs 2½ hours from Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem until curtain rings down on the Ascension.

Farmers Will Get Help Under New Plan

Municipal districts will be assisted in constructing seed-cleaning plants within their various areas, Hon. D. A. Ure, provincial minister of agriculture, announced today.

Four or five seed-cleaning plants are expected to be constructed in Alberta each year under the new policy.

The policy provides for the organization of a centralized cleaning co-operative association, comprised of farmers within each municipality.

THREE-WAY BASIS

Funds for the construction and purchase of necessary equipment will be provided on a three-way basis by members of the association, the municipal district, and the department of agriculture. The association will administer the affairs of the co-operative.

Similar provision may also be made on a two-way basis between the municipality and the department of agriculture. In this case, management will be in the hands of the municipality, under the general direction of the agricultural service board.

The government sponsored scheme will aid farmers in securing modern seed-cleaning facilities and will assist municipalities in controlling noxious weeds, Mr. Ure said.

General quality of crops grown in Alberta is expected to improve as a result of the seed cleaning plan.

The policy will be administered by the Field Crops Branch of the department of agriculture.

A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner, will supply municipal districts with further information.

H. J. Woodman Is Dead at 64

Assistant deputy provincial treasurer H. J. Woodman, 64, 11211 126 street, died in an Edmonton hospital Monday.

His death followed an operation about one week ago.

Mr. Woodman was a native of England, born in Bishops Waltham, Hampshire, where he lived the early part of his life and was educated before going to King's College, London, on a scholarship.

After graduating, he entered the British civil service and served in the War Office and the customs department.

During the First World War, Mr. Woodman served with the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders as a lieutenant.

Following the war, he came to Canada and was employed by the Imperial Bank of Canada, working in the Edmonton and Calgary branches.

In 1921 he joined the provincial civil service and his record since that time has been one of steady advancement. In 1926 he was promoted from chief clerk of the audit office to an accountant and in 1928 he became senior auditor of disbursements.

Four years later he became secretary in the provincial secretary's department and in 1936 was transferred to the provincial treasurer's department as secretary. The post he held at the time of his death, he attained in 1946.

Mr. Woodman is survived by his wife, three sons, Stanley in Clinton, Ont.; Gordon in Edmonton and John in Prince George; and three daughters, Mrs. Gladys E. Lester, Red Deer; Mrs. Joyce Clark, Edmonton and Mrs. Bernice Woodman, Goderich, Ont.

Carrier Boys Have Weiner Roast

Bulletin carrier boys from the South Side were treated to a weiner roast during the good weather of the past week-end.

The boys were taken to Black Mud Forks by "Susie," faithful jalopy of the district manager.

The boys hiked through the hills, had a football game, were treated to weiners, buns, cokes and ice cream and topped the evening off with a sing-song and another hike.

ELECTION WARMS UP

First Campaign Meet Slated for October 27

Four city-sponsored campaign meetings are to be held as a warm-up to this year's November 8 civic elections.

Arrangements for the conducting of the meetings have been completed by the Elections Committee of the City Council, composed of continuing aldermen H. E. Tanner, James Douglas, G. Gleave, C. E. Gariepy and Armour Ford.

First of the meetings giving candidates an opportunity to voice their opinions on civic affairs will be held Oct. 27 in the Calder public school. Another meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 28, in the Strathcona Assembly Hall and the third in the Alberta avenue community hall, Oct. 29.

Final meeting of the campaign will be held Monday night, Nov. 1, in the Memorial Hall.

Candidates will be permitted to speak for five minutes at each of the meetings.

In addition each of the candidates will be allotted three three-minute periods of radio time arranged by the city over stations CFRN and CJCA.

No campaign meeting is to be held in the Norwood School this year.

Aldermen whose terms expire this year are A. Bissett, Sidney Bowcott, Sidney Parsons, J. H Ogilvie, and F. J. Mitchell.

Terms of Public School Board members J. C. MacDonald, R. H. Rae, and John Morris expire this year, as well as Separate School Board members A. J. Crowe, F. J. Kileen and J. O'Hara.

Nominations for all candidates for all offices will be received October 25 and election will be held November 3.

A total of 80,360 citizens are listed on the voters list this year and this figure will be further increased by the results at the Court of revision to be held October 12 to 22 in the Civic Block.

There were 76,112 names on the voters list last year.

Applications for appointments as polling clerks or deputy returning officers are still being received by Returning Officer George Docherty in the Civic Block.

CHANGES MADE IN BENEFITS FOR WORKERS

Pulpwood manufacturing industry will be withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the Workman's Compensation Board after October 31, it is announced in the latest issue of the Alberta Gazette.

Persons engaged in pulpwood manufacture were previously covered on a compulsory basis by the Act. They will now be permitted to make voluntary application for coverage.

Most pulpwood industry employes receive workman's compensation under the general group of factory workers.

Gyros Fete Club Padre

Padre of Gyro International, Very Rev. T. W. S. Jones and Mrs. Jones, of Montreal, were entertained by the Edmonton Gyro Club at their meeting in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday.

In an address to the club, the padre told of conditions in Europe as he found them on a recent visit, during which he attended a world-wide conference of churches held in Amsterdam.

Speaking of conditions in Great Britain, he said things are very difficult, and the spirit of hope which prevailed during the war years seems to be gone. The people seem more pessimistic, though not defeatist. They still believe they will win through, he said.

He remarked of the friendliness felt by the Europeans toward Canadians, and said that they looked to this country for relief.

Members of the Gyrettes also attended the meeting and Mrs. Douglas Cobbledick extended a welcome to Mrs. Jones.

Speaker was introduced by former president of the club, Stan Smith, and a vote of thanks was moved by Dr. Hal Richards.

President Wes Van Dusen presided.

Investigator Wins Court Acquittal On Perjury Charge

Justice Shepherd Raps Circumstances of Charge

After terming the case "a dirty mess" and strongly inferring that Crown authorities should investigate further, Mr. Justice Shepherd Tuesday acquitted Charles J. Griffith of perjury in supreme criminal court here.

Griffith, a 76-year-old private investigator, was charged with perjury as a result of testimony he gave in a divorce hearing before Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin on Nov. 18, 1947.

Pearl Hunter was plaintiff and her husband, John Edward Hunter, defendant.

According to evidence, Griffith had been retained by Mrs. Hunter's solicitor, H. L. Spankie.

LITTLE STUPID

In dismissing the perjury charge against Griffith Tuesday, Mr. Justice Shepherd said:

"I have come to the conclusion that you may have been a little stupid and that you were the victim of two smarter minds than yours.

"I hope this will not be the end of what we have heard in this case today.

"But I have some doubt as to whether you committed perjury. On no other grounds would I acquit."

Essence of the perjury charge against Griffith was that he swore in the divorce action he had traced the defendant Hunter to an Edmonton hotel room through a photograph. Accused had there found Hunter with a woman other than his wife.

When Griffith was on the witness stand in his own defence Tuesday Mr. Justice Shepherd observed it was "strange that Hunter was expecting Griffith," at the hotel room.

Said the court:

"I am not suggesting it was you who arranged it, but some one did."

FOOL COURT

At another juncture Mr. Justice Shepherd said it looked as if evidence was being sought "to fool the court in order to get a divorce."

It was revealed by counsel during the perjury trial that Mr. Justice McLaurin had halted the divorce hearing and ordered a transcript of the evidence sent the King's Proctor after refusing to grant a decree.

Evidence of Hunter, testifying as a Crown witness in the perjury trial, was that Griffith had never located him in the hotel room as accused had sworn.

Hunter said he had several meetings with Griffith in another hotel where he had signed a statement admitting adultery.

Hunter was married in England while serving in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Neil D. Maclean defended Griffith and W. J. Shortreed appeared for the Crown.

City's Building Boom Soars to New Peaks

Edmonton's building boom this year has reached a total value of $21,235,265, according to a statement prepared by the City Architect and Building Inspector's Department.

This figure, for the first nine months of this year, is more than double the $9,870,127 recorded for the same period of last year, and is more than $6,000,000 in excess of the figure for the previous record year of 1946.

New residential construction alone this year is valued at $11,462,068. This covers 1905 new dwellings for which permits have been issued.

Permits have also been issued for the construction of 31 new apartment buildings which are valued at $788,000.

New commercial construction totals $3,161,850, which covers 151 new projects. One hundred and eighty permits issued for commercial building alterations and repairs total $1,199,017.

Institutional construction up to the end of September amounted to $3,401,807 for new construction, alterations, and repairs.

During September 439 permits were issued valued at $2,093,024 which comprised commercial construction valued at $295,000, institutional valued at $519,700, and residential valued at $1,160,529.

Permits issued to the end of September this year numbered 3,311.

Of the new dwellings being constructed, 249 are being built under a Wartime Housing project and 49 under an RCAF project.

CHEST FUND SHOWS GOOD RESPONSE

A good response is indicated in Edmonton's Community Chest campaign according to preliminary reports received from volunteer workers.

Pledges totalling $10,550 had been received in Community Chest headquarters by noon Tuesday.

Employe group contributions were received from Civil Service Welfare Fund, $6,000; Swift Canadian Co., $1,700; Canada Packers Ltd., $900; Burns and Company, $750; Woodland Dairy, $100; Burrows Motors, $100 and Rotary Club of Edmonton, $1,000.

Indians Given Mine Rights

Mines and mineral rights to more than 100,000 acres of Alberta land have been granted Indians of four reserves in the province, it is announced in the lastest Alberta Gazette.

Provisions of a provincial-federal agreement grant mineral rights of the Chipewyan reserves along the Athabasca river between Fort McMurray and the river delta at Lake Athabasca, of the Janvier reserve east of the NAR right of way between Lac La Biche and McMurray, and of the New Sunchild and O'Chiese reserve near Rocky Mountain House.

Surface rights of the Chipewyan and Janvier reserves were previously granted. Sunchild and O'Chiese reserves were recently created.

Area of land involved includes 52,000 acres in the Chipewyan reserves, 514 acres in the Janvier reserve, 12,894 acres in the Sunchild reserve and 34,387 acres in the O'Chiese reserve.

Woman and Baby Hurt In Tram-Truck Crash

A woman and an 18-months-old baby received minor injuries in a spectacular street car-truck smash-up in Edmonton Tuesday.

Injured were:

Loraine Fox, 18 months, 6705 106 street, hand and face scratched.

Mrs. E. Booker, 10709 79 avenue, twisted knee.

Both were passengers in a blue and white street car travelling west on 82 avenue when it crashed into the side of a gravel truck at the intersection of 82 avenue and 106 street at 3:50 p.m.

CHILD IN PRAM

The child was in a pram in the front compartment of the street car. Front end of the car was badly damaged and the mechanical doors bashed in.

The conductor, Donald Oness, 11629 125 street, told police the truck passed him going in the same direction and then cut in front of him, stopping on the tracks. The driver failed to make a signal, he said.

He had been asked by the mother to look after the child in the pram, he said. The mother was sitting back in the car.

TRUCKER TELLS STORY

Driver of the truck, L. R. Smith, 12061 97 street, according to police stated he had seen two boys standing on the northeast curb of the intersection. He opened his door to look back and thought the street car was going to stop for the boys before he turned, he said. Traffic made it necessary for him to stop on the tracks, he stated.

Rear axle was broken and considerable damage was done to the rear wheels and side of the truck.

No charges have been laid.

Very Few Turkeys For Thanksgiving

By Bea Thrifty

Are you as clever as Sherlock Holmes?

If so, you won't have any difficulty finding a turkey for that Thanksgiving dinner.

But if you're not . . . alas and alack . . . no turkey.

You see, there are to be a few turkeys on the week-end market, but not so very many. Most of the birds are too young, or are in molting stage . . . or something.

Naturally, with the quantity limited, they will be harder to track down.

Getting into the song and dance about the price, I have a variety of things to say. Quoting one producer, "turkeys will retail at prices ranging from 45c to 57c per pound, grade A birds." You'll have to pay a nice round sum, about 80c per pound, but that still is a lot less than T-bone steak these days.

Anyway, there are a few frozen turkeys around, and lots 'n lots of chicken . . . at 50c per pound.

Pumpkin for those wonderful, spicy pies isn't too horribly expensive. As a matter of fact you'll be able to take home a tin of good pumpkin for 12c.

And when you get it home, you can make at least two pies from the contents.

Cranberries are plentiful and are selling at a price 10c lower than last year's effort . . . which is a change indeed.

There are some for 29c per pound . . . if you happen to shop in the right places.

Speaking of fluctuating prices, and everyone is, did you notice the present level of the cost of living.

With a squall of abject horror . . . I cry out it is now at an all-time peak of 1585.

Great guns . . . just how elastic is that of' budget anyway?

Slaving over a hot ol' hotplate every day in a hole-in-the-wall kitchen is worth just so many laughs . . . then the whole thing begins to pall.

With housing in the state it is . . . there seems to be no other alternative in a lot of cases.

Families are trying to get by, paying well over half their income sometimes . . . just for a roof over their heads.

All this harangue is leading up to a far from cheerful comment on the lifting of the rent control.

Evidently there will be a rease in the very near future . . . to be effective in April.

With the lifting of the rent ceiling . . . we'll be living in Junior's tent at Victoria Park.

There's a limit to everything . . . but whatever happened to the limit in this housing situation?

Not exactly full of sunshine and roses today, am I? Ah . . . 'tis the thought of a long, cold winter, wearing snuggles and a few other nasty things that puts a dent in the good humor.

But back tomorrow with a smile . . . .

BRIDGE

Disregard Standard Practice at Times

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

Most successful business men have a hobby on which they work almost as hard as they do in their business. Many of them have become engrossed in tournament bridge. Some, however, love their work so much that it is also their hobby. Such a one is Percy Faith, the well-known orchestra leader.

Rubber—Both vul.

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	2 N.T.	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♦6

That boy just loves music. He plays at it and he works at it. Many former servicemen will recall Paul Gallico's story, "Snow Goose." It was Percy Faith who wrote the music for the play when they took it on a USO tour.

I asked him if there are any definite rules which should be followed in arranging music. He said that there are no rules which it is advisable to follow, but that at times, one might completely disregard standard practice. "I think that probably holds true in bridge also," he said. And it certainly does.

You all know the rules about never finessing your partner's lead, second hand low, third hand high, and so on, but in today's hand you have to violate one of those sound principles. On the opening lead of the six of diamonds, declarer played the eight-spot from dummy and West went up with the ace, because the rule is not to finesse your partner's lead. Third hand should play high.

You can see what happened. Declarer played the four from his hand. When West came back with the jack of diamonds, North played the five. West then continued with the deuce of diamonds. North won with the king, and when he took the club finesse and it lost, there was no play. West could make that would defeat the contract.

If, contrary to the general rule, West had played the jack of diamonds instead of the ace on the first trick, few North players would refuse to win the trick with the king. That would easily hold the ace of diamonds and in that case the hand would go down to defeat.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Gradually Discontinue Night Bottle Feeding

There is no disposition, these days, to take away the baby's bottle forcibly. There used to be. In times past weaning from bottle to cup was supposed to be accomplished from the ninth to the twelfth month, at latest. Now if the night bottle remains a comfort to the baby for several months longer, it is allowed to be.

Mrs. L. C. S. says that her 10-months-old baby drinks his orange juice easily from a cup but resists the cup for milk. "If he does accept the cup at night, he is not satisfied with it but cries and sucks his thumb until I give him the bottle. If I persist, then he wakes up hours earlier in the morning. Is there something else he needs in his diet?"

Give part of each feeding by cup and then finish with the bottle. Decrease slowly the amount in bottle and increase it in the cup. By this gradual process the baby will become more and more accustomed to lying down after just a swallow or two from the bottle. It is probable that within the next two months you can accomplish the weaning, if you allow him the privilege of having some milk by bottle before he goes to sleep.

Mother of Red Heads: "My two boys are unhappy and self-conscious about their red hair and freckles. They are well-built, have good teeth and I dress them nicely. But people tease them about their hair and freckles and they hate it. One would not go to camp this year because of it. How can I help them?"

Red hair is uncommon and beautiful. But, because it is noticeable like a long nose, or large ears or thin legs or fatness, it offers a target to shoot at. Explain to them that their lot is not uncommon, that other children have other features about which people tease them.

Get the librarian to give you some stories about red-heads, and also suggest some biographies of famous persons with red hair, Queen Elizabeth, for one. Remind them of such movie stars as Stirling Holloway, Greer Garson and the writer, Jim Tully. Their red mops are, or were, part of their charm.

Our leaflet No. 50, "Wholesome Social Groups", discusses those to which children anywhere may belong and accept their differences. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Dislike for Children No Asset to Marriage

Dear Miss Dix: I am a woman 26 years old, very much in love with a widower who is 35 and the father of two children. He loves me, but is very attached to his children. But I can't tolerate children. I loathe them.

Should I marry this widowed man, whom I love, and put up with his children? Or should I marry another man who loves me? Please help me to decide this question, for I do not know which way to turn.—CONFUSED.

ANSWER: If you are allergic to children, I certainly would advise you not to marry the widower. For you will bring misery on yourself, the widower, and the innocent little children.

Let's begin with the widower. He is evidently a fine man who is devoted to his two little children for whom he feels a particular tenderness because they are motherless. If you should marry him, you would wreck his life because your happiness to children would make you treat them unkindly, and that would break the father's heart. No man could be put in a crueler position than having to decide between a wife and children. There would be no happiness in such a marriage for anyone.

And certainly you would find no happiness in a marriage in which you would be consumed with jealousy over the children, for they would stand as a perpetual barrier between you and their father, and you would know that he would always resent your treatment of the kids and would be trying to protect them.

And as for the children, get out your Bible and read what it says about its being better for anyone to put a millstone around their necks and drown themselves in the sea than to offend one of these little ones.

There's more to relaxation than a comfortable spot such as Actress Janet Blair is enjoying. Josephine Lowman offers some pointers today.

WHY GROW OLD

Relaxation Comes When Mind At Peace

The other day I received a letter from a reader. This letter contained what seems to me to be a gem. She said: "After all, relaxation must come from within."

I am sure that this is fundamentally true, yet it is so subtle that what she felt when she wrote it, what I felt when I read it, and what you have felt many times, will be difficult to put into print. Nevertheless, I am going to try to do so.

Relaxation must come from within. It must come from an inner balance and a belief in life, from self-respect, from a conception of the broad sweep of existance, from being in tune with oneself. Otherwise all of the diets and exercises and self-improvement programs in the world will be in vain and we will fret our vital energy away in small and insignificant ways.

We have to "square away" with ourselves before we can be relaxed. So long as we are battling ourselves we cannot relax even in the most relaxing circumstances. Some people find themselves through religious faith, others through self-dedication to some great work, others through self-expression in a career and still others through love and home. Whatever you do you must first have inner belief and inner relaxation and inner joy with which to vitalize the medium.

Life is adventurous wherever you live or whatever your circumstances. It is your one bit of consciousness of this earth! Give yourself to it and enjoy it!

Greeting Car Hostess Welcomes Newcomers

Pantry Goodies and Welcome to City Makes New Residents Feel 'At Home'

By Frances Geddes

If you're a newcomer in Edmonton or a new bride you can plan right now to receive a charming, enthusiastic young woman who is hostess for the Greeting Car.

She is Mrs. Samuel Marchment and will be calling on behalf of Edmonton merchants with a basketful of pantry goodies—most welcome assets to any household.

What's sometimes better — this attractive woman brings that friendly welcome which means so much to newcomers in a big city.

Mrs. Marchment has been a newcomer herself. She is a Dutch war bride and knows what loneliness can mean when one is far away from familiar friends and places.

She was bombed out of her home in The Hague during the war and became an interpreter for the Canadian Army where she met her husband.

Two brothers have come out to Canada, attracted by their sister's glowing reports.

With the Canadian Red Cross when she first came to Edmonton, Mrs. Marchment has been at this work for over a year.

She finds her work fascinating and interesting, saying that she meets people from all over the world.

Women are sometimes a little reluctant to open their doors too widely, thinking they're in for high pressured sales talk. "But when I say it's free," says Mrs. Marchment in her almost perfect English, "they open the door as wide as it can go."

Among merchandise offered are bread, biscuits, flour, cereal, ice cream, chocolates. Services offered by various stores include shampoo and finger wave, dry cleaning and a free grease job for the car (husband has to get something out of all this).

General idea is that once a new householder starts using a product or a service, she will continue with it if satisfied. And each merchant is sure she'll be satisfied.

Fifteen firms have chosen this method of making themselves known to the housewife.

Mrs. Marchment can give you good advice, too—telling you the name of the nearest church and school—making you feel right at home.

Greeting Car is Edmonton owned and grown.

Meteorologists Want Blondes for Business

TORONTO.—(CP) — Meteorologists prefer blondes.

For business reasons only, the weathermen have found blondes' hair to be more sensitive—to moisture, that is.

And moisture-proof hair is a vital part of the hygrograph, a machine that records atmospheric conditions.

Brunette locks, they have learned, are too greasy while red hair is without sensitivity.

Once they have clipped the locks of the lady of their choice, a delicate operation takes place. The strands are washed and dried and then straightened by a machine.

In groups of about 20, the strands are scaled when each is of the same length and tension. The finished object resembles a miniature antenna with vertical wires.

As the moisture increases or decreases the golden strands expand or contract.

Drew to Call Cabinet Meeting on Successor

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., Oct. 6.—(CP)—Premier George Drew of Ontario said last night he will call a meeting of cabinet in Toronto within the next day or two to discuss his resignation from the Ontario government and the procedure for the selection of his successor.

In an interview with The Canadian Press he said he could make no comment in the meantime regarding announcement by Ontario Attorney-General Leslie E. Blackwell that he will stand for the leadership of the provincial Progressive-Conservative party when a convention is called to name Mr. Drew's successor.

Mr. Drew and his wife are leaving this resort some 50 miles north-east of Ottawa today. He was elected national leader of the P. C. party at a three-day convention in Ottawa last week.

"As I informed a press conference in Ottawa last Saturday," he said, "I will have no statement to make in regard to the procedure to be followed until I have discussed this matter with my colleagues."

In Toronto yesterday, Hon. Leslie Blackwell announced his candidature for the Ontario leadership of the party. He said he did so to help assure calling of a convention to name a successor to Premier Drew, elected Saturday as the party's national leader.

The 56-year-old native of Lindsay, attorney-general of Ontario since 1943, made his announcement in the wake of speculation that Hon. T. L. Kennedy, 70-year-old minister of agriculture and senior member of the Ontario cabinet, would be named either by Mr. Drew or the cabinet to take over as premier until a convention could be summoned.

Try this Taste-Test!

131 housewives did and 85 voted HEINZ their top flavour favourite
When a group of average housewives in a typical small Canadian city were asked to take a "blindfold" test of two leading brands of Cream of Tomato Soup, the result was overwhelmingly in favour of Heinz.
Of course, the women were not actually blindfolded, but they were served two bowls of heated Cream of Tomato Soup that were identified only by the letters A and B, and asked to write down the brand they preferred. Nearly 65 percent voted Heinz FIRST for flavour. Less than 35 percent registering no choice preferred known brand, with one lady registering no choice.
Here are a few of the comments made by another group of women when asked their opinion of Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup:
• "It's No. 1 soup in our home."
• "No other compares with it."
• "Have always preferred Heinz because the flavour is definitely superior."
• "Heinz tomato flavour is truer."
Try this taste test on your own family. Heat a tin of Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup and a tin of any other brand. Serve half-helpings of each and get your family's verdict when they have tasted the wonderful difference. Chances are it will be the one for Heinz.
If you have been buying some other brand for any reason, try Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup just ONCE. It will be the beginning of a long friendship. Taste will tell!

OIL

Imperial Tries For Cretaceous

By CECIL JACKMAN

The first Woodbend failure of Imperial Oil may be turned into the company's first Cretaceous producer in either the Leduc or Woodbend fields. Imperial Woodbend No. 8 found the east side of the Devonian reef below the water level and has been plugged back for a Cretaceous test. So far Imperial has had only one abandonment in the Leduc and Woodbend fields.

So far the discovery company has not brought in any Cretaceous producers in either field. Holes are ordinarily sunk primarily for Devonian oil and come back for Cretaceous production as a second choice. Except for Leduc No. 34 Imperial has not had any Devonian failures previous to Woodbend No. 8. All holes are tested opposite to the lower Cretaceous sands on the way down so the company has information of the potential of the higher formations in case of failure in the Devonian.

170 BARRELS DAILY

So far the Continental well is the only steady producer of Cretaceous oil in Woodbend or Leduc. Since it came into production in the middle of August it has yielded an average of over 170 barrels of oil daily through a quarter inch choke. Total production from the well is now over 7,000 barrels.

Tests are being resumed at the Cretaceous well drilled by Saskatchewan Co-op Central Leduc's Pyrcz quarter. Perforating was completed for the second time on Tuesday after the first set of holes had been squeezed off in an effort to reduce the gas wastage.

Amerada has completed 15 slim hole tests in the area northeast of Edmonton. Rigs are drilling holes of various depths and a little smaller diameter than holes normally drilled for production over a wide area. One hole 20 miles east of Redwater was cased and tested, but eventually abandoned.

Work is being continued at Redwater. Efforts are being made to get a further boost in the open flow potential of the well that shows evidence of opening another big field. More acid was injected on Tuesday.

SUNRAY ENTERS FIELD

The entry of Sunray Oil Corporation into the northern Alberta field is signalized by the formation of a Canadian subsidiary of the large American independent concern. The company intends to share in the exploration and drilling programs underway in the north half of the province.

A deep test is underway at Ardrossan, 20 miles east of Edmonton. The hole is down almost 7,000 feet and appears to be headed for a test down to the Pre-Cambrian granite. This test was originally scheduled for Redwater but it was decided to put the well onto production rather than drill deeper when oil was discovered.

BOND MARKET

MONTREAL, Oct. 6. — (CP) — Dominion, provincials, municipals and corporations continued featureless in dull trading on the bond market here today.

Industrials Show Moderate Upturn

Base Metal Gains in Majority; Western Oils Slightly Lower

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Industrials were narrowly stronger in moderately active trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Base metals also firmed and golds held steady as trading slackened slightly. Western oils were quietly easier. Volume was about 763,000 shares.

Papers advanced on fractional gains in the industrials and Canadian Vickers preferred sparked a strong steels list.

Gains outnumbered losses 3 to 1 in the base metals. Consolidated Smelters, International Nickel and Noranda strengthened fractionally.

Hollinger and Teck-Hughes weakened in the senior golds while a few juniors showed small advances in strong trading.

Calgary and Edmonton, Federal Petroleum and Davies Petroleum were narrowly easier in the western oils.

RALLY BY STEELS SPARKS NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Steels led a short rally in the stock market today that sparked a general rise throughout the list.

The volume of trading was around 800,000 shares for the entire session.

The steel advance generated increases of fractions to around a point while here and there selected rails and oils pushed beyond that level. Nickel plate at one time gained more than three points.

Utilities were steady for the most part, but a few issues sagged.

The gradual over-all rise practically wiped out the losses of yesterday which came after a steady three-day advance.

Canadian issues were lower. Dome Mines and McIntyre dropped ¼. Canadian Pacific eased ⅛. Distillers Seagrams was unchanged.

PRICES REMAIN STEADY IN CALGARY TRADING

CALGARY, Oct. 6.—The oil market was spotty today with a smaller sales volume being confined to a relatively small group of issues. Sales were down to 92,500 shares from Tuesday's total of 143,775. Prices were steady.

Chicago Grain Closes Higher

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A firm trend in the cash market bolstered grain futures on the Board of Trade today. But gains were small and trading continued in a rut.

Corn was up a few cents in the spot market as a leading processing interest sought the grain. Eastern and southeastern feeders and processors wanted oats, shipping sales from here totalling more than 100,000 bushels.

This activity in the cash trade caused a little buying in feed grain futures.

Wheat held steady on fair-sized flour business, both foreign and domestic.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ¾ higher, corn was unchanged to ⅞ higher, oats were unchanged to ⅞ higher, and rye was unchanged to ¾ higher.

Cash wheat: No. 1 red 2.27; corn: new, No. 2 yellow 1.61; oats: No. 1 heavy mixed 77½; rye: No. 1 pup 1.70; barley nominal: malting 1.24-62.

October Barley Paces Grain Price Advance

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—(CP)—October barley led an upturn in coarse grains prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. General buying was evidence in both oats and barley, particularly in the October contracts. Purchases were made by shippers, exporters and American houses, as well as some local houses.

Offerings were fairly liberal in oats and light in barley.

Rye attracted American and local commission house buying. Offerings were on a moderate scale.

Seaboard houses continued to make some purchases in flax. Trading was fairly active.

A moderate quantity of wheat was allocated to the United Kingdom but no details were forthcoming as to the size.

Prices of class two wheat—for export to countries other than the United Kingdom—remained unchanged.

Toronto Teacher Addresses HSA

Professional necessities of a good teacher were outlined to the first fall meeting of the University Home and School Association Tuesday.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. C. E. Phillips of the Ontario College of Education, University of Toronto.

The first requirement, he said is academic knowledge.

The second is knowledge, he explained, must be backed up by a good understanding of children and their development.

A third necessity, said Dr. Phillips, is the realization on the part of the teacher of the social value of his teaching in the modern world.

A command of the technique of teaching whole classes at one time, he said, is the fourth necessary attribute of a professional teacher.

An estimated 200 residents of the University area attended the meeting.

Registered Nurses Up Daily Fees

New rates, increasing fees for private nursing from six dollars to seven for an eight hour day, with proportionate increases for more than eight hours, will become effective October 16.

Increase applies to all registered nurses of the Alberta Association doing private nursing in Edmonton district.

Higher cost of living is given as the reason for the new rate, which was approved by the Council of the Registered Nurses' Association recently.

The new rate is twelve and one-half cents per hour more than the previous one, and brings Edmonton rates more in line with many other western centres.

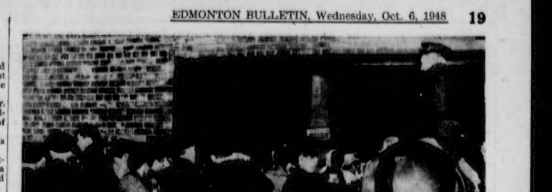
PUSHING AND SHOVING in an effort to keep Boston's eager baseball fans in line was a problem for Boston police Monday, as the crowds struggled for the few seats left for the Red Sox-Indian playoff game for the American League pennant. Thousands lined up early.



World Aspects Enter Presidential Campaign

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Intrusion of the critical international situation and the blast against President Truman delivered by John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, (AFL) today dominated the United States presidential election campaign.

The first - named development could be read as significant of the utmost gravity in world affairs.

Lewis got the headlines today with his bitter condemnation of the president but the international aspect of the week's developments provided more food for thought.

REPORTS TO DEWEY

Dewey's own representative on the United Nations delegation in Paris, John Foster Dulles, flew to Albany, N.Y., yesterday to make a personal report to his chief.

Later yesterday it was announced that Truman had called home State Secretary Marshall, who heads his delegation in Paris, and cancelled speaking engagements in New York to meet Marshall here Saturday.

This development might have caused a great deal of apprehension but for the fact the political significance that can be attached to it, and also the fact that Marshall had intended to come home for a few days in any event.

Dewey's move in calling Dulles home to report in person is believed to be keyed to yesterday's developments to do the same with the secretary of state.

NO BIG SIGNIFICANCE

This belief was heightened by a White House announcement that the change of the president's speaking plans to provide the Saturday meeting here with Marshall had no special significance.

However, observers here discounts the gravity of the situation created by the Russian attitude at the Geneva Security Council Indies' delegates' servers wonder what could be said by or to the returning delegates that could be said over the line of communication systems which operate between here and Paris 24 hours a day.

Here easily understandable was the blast from Lewis, who, told representatives of his 500,000 miners that Truman was "totally unfit for his position," that he was "careless of the truth," that he had no special knowledge of anything and that he was a "malignant, scheming sort of an individual."

Born in Ontario, he began his railroad career 45 years ago. He worked a number of years for western United States railways, but most of his working life was spent as a CNR conductor in Western Canada.

A sports fan, Mr. Calver followed baseball and hockey closely. He was an ardent flatwoman.

He was a member of the Order of Railroad Conductors.

Surviving are his wife; at home; one daughter, Mrs. Clifton Barnett, and one grandson, both of Noranda; one sister in Brockville, Ont.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Scona Service Station Opened

Scona Service Station, 10128 86 avenue, was officially opened Monday by Mayor John Fry.

Owned by Scona Motors Ltd., the station is operated by Ken Hall.

Mary Wilce Wins Recreation Post

Mary Wilce will succeed Don Schill as reception officer of the Riverdale Community League, it was announced today.

Mr. Schill has resigned his post to accept a promotion to an uptown position, he said.

Mr. Montpetit, 10160 92 street, was awarded a mantel radio as purchaser of $5 share certificates sold by the League.

Weekly movie programs will be resumed beginning Wednesday at 7 p.m. and plans are being formulated for weekly Saturday night dances. Dances this season will not be preceded by whist drives.

$20,000 Art Display At University

Made up of a series of 54 paintings, the display represents 100 years of Canadian art development.

Featured in the group are paintings by the "Group of Seven," a band of painters who rebelled against nineteenth century European art.

Instead they changed their style to vivid portrayals of Canadian landscapes.

The collection has been loaned to the University by the National Art Gallery and will be on display for a year.

Claims For Tax Exemption Denied By Supreme Court

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada yesterday dismissed an appeal for tax exemption claim of the Bennett and White Construction Company of Calgary.

The company had sought a 1941 exemption of $20,813 and a 1942 exemption of $23,455. These were sums previously borrowed by the firm and repaid by it in those years, when the company sought to charge the repayments up to operating expenses.

The revenue department disallowed the deduction and the department's action was upheld by the Exchequer Court and the Supreme Court.

Federal Education Assistance Sought

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—(CP)—A resolution calling for federal aid to education was passed unanimously here yesterday at the 11th annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Home and School Associations.

C. J. Oates of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, said that the Dominion government recently decided to grant $250,000,000 for the physical training of children in the form of health grants to the provinces.

"Surely the intellectual and spiritual well-being of Canada's children is just as worthy of federal financial assistance," he said.

"It is not a subsidy but federal interference with the provincial control of the curriculum. What is needed is a federal subsidy that is a per capita grant to the provinces for educational use, with no strings attached."

Guilty Divorced Persons Banned From Remarriage

CALGARY, Oct. 6.—(CP)—The Calgary Presbytery of the United Church of Canada yesterday approved a resolution ruling that "no person divorced on the ground of guilty may be married by a United Church minister."

The Presbytery also agreed that all United Church ministers "must" be given two weeks' notice before they may marry a divorced person and during the two-week period, "it is the duty of the minister to ascertain, if possible, the facts behind the divorce."

13,014 DP's Here

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(Reuters)—Canada has taken 13,014 displaced persons, more than 10 per cent of the 127,022 resettled from the United States zone of Germany since the end of the war, the International Refugee Organization announced here.

Entries Numerous In Poetry Contest

More than 800 entries have been received in the 1948 Poetry Contest sponsored by the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Authors' Association.

The contest is the nineteenth to be sponsored by the group.

All manuscripts are now in the hands of the judges, and the selecting committee were greatly impressed by the quality of the majority of entries.

One hundred of the best poems will be selected for publication.

Chinese Puzzle

SHANGHAI, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The municipal government yesterday decreed a sweeping rationing system for Shanghai residents. Woolens, cottons, edible oils and a score or more of other items were listed on the "restricted purchase" list. One thing was overlooked. No automotive or enforcement machinery was provided.
